ARE ACCUSED OF COUNTERFEITING

TWO MEN UNDER ARREST AT SEATTLE

Apparatus for Making Money
Found in Room of One of Prisoners.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Wash., June 14.—The police and government secret service men have under arrest to-day two men whom they accuse of being counterfeiters. The names of the men are Carl P. Mohon and Morris Ralston, and the police believe they have the men responsible for flooding Seattle, Tacoma and other northwest cities with spurious silver halves and dollars since last March.

Mohon, who claims to be a telegrapher unemployed, was arrested by Patrolman Ziebarth at the baseball game yesterday afternoon just after he had given a boy two counterfeit halves with which to purchase tickets to the game for himself and the woman accompanying him. Somehow the woman escaped and is still at large.

From papers found on Mohon at police headquarters his room and that of Ralston were located on Ninth avenue near Union street. Here Thomas B. Foster, operative in charge of the Puget Sound secret service district, found and arrested Ralston and Cora St. Clair, with whom Ralston was living. The woman, however, the secret service men think is not implicated. When placed under arrest Ralston was found handling implements and trinkets of a complete counterfeiters outfit lying about the room. He also had some counterfeit halves and dollars in his possession.

Both the halves and dollars are clever imitations. Ralston says he has a brother residing at Everett, who conducts a barber shop there.

FILIPINO MUTINEERS DEFY AUTHORITIES

Members of Native Constabulary
Are Endeavoring to Start Revolt.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Manila, June 14.—Entrenched in a mountain retreat defying capture, a native sergeant and 22 Visayan, private in the Philippines constabulary, who mutinied at Davao, Mindanao Island, on June 6, are making efforts to-day to enlist the aid of other Filipinos in starting a revolt.

A company of constabulary is en route to Davao to-day following the receipt here of news of the mutiny and a company of 23rd infantry is already on the scene guarding the town.

Reports that an American named Libbey was killed in a battle with the mutineers have not been confirmed. The deserters are known to be among the most dangerous natives in the constabulary and a serious clash is anticipated when the troops overtake them. The authorities are determined to capture every one of the mutineers and have ordered the pursuers not to abandon the chase until this is accomplished.

Major General Wm. P. Du Val, commanding the division of the Philippines, declared to-day that his faith in the native constabulary was not shaken by the mutiny at Davao and that he still retained the highest regard for the general loyalty of the forces.

Brigadier General Harry H. Bandholtz, chief of the constabulary, who is in the field, was notified to-day of the mutiny and sent word that he was to hurry to the scene and will take personal command of the pursuing forces.

VILLAGE ALMOST DESTROYED BY FIRE

Dynamite Stored in Warehouse
Explodes and Flames Spread Rapidly.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Bakersfield, Cal., June 14.—Almost every building in the mountain village of Chiente, 24 miles east of this city, is in ashes as the result of a stubborn fire that swept the town late yesterday afternoon and last night. The work of a brigade of amateur fire fighters was made extremely hazardous by the presence of 3,000 pounds of dynamite in the Southern Pacific warehouse, where the fire started. When the dynamite exploded, the depot and other adjacent buildings were wrecked, and the fire spread quickly. It continued unchecked until it burned itself out.

Telegraphic communication with Los Angeles was interrupted and a full report of the disaster cannot be obtained. It is reported that no lives were lost and that the property loss will reach $50,000.

WANT RUSSIA TO WITHDRAW TROOPS

PERSIAN NATIONALISTS
PRESENT PETITION

Strong Feeling Exists Against Presence of Soldiers in Country.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Teheran, Persia, June 14.—The strong feeling against the presence of the Russian troops at Tabriz has found expression in a petition signed by a committee of Kasvin nationalists, a copy of which was forwarded to every foreign representative at the capital to-day. The petitioners also protest against the threat alleged to have been made by the Russian government to treat them as outlaws.

Although the members of the diplomatic circle in this city are inclined to believe that the petition was drafted by Europeans and not by the nationalists, it is generally thought to be indicative of the strong feeling that exists against the presence of the Czar's soldiers in the country.

CALIFORNIANS ON WAY TO EXPOSITION

Over One Hundred Business Men Are Making Trip to Puget Sound.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Portland, Ore., June 14.—Promptly on scheduled time the special train of the California promotion committee, San Francisco chamber of commerce and other kindred organizations of California, the most sumptuous train ever run on the Pacific coast, pulled into Portland at 6 o'clock this morning and after a stop of an hour and a half continued on its way to Seattle, bearing 100 of the leading business men of the great southern state.

In the party there are all told 115 persons, including a number of Oregon business men picked up along the line who are going with the party as invited guests. At Portland, Tom Richardson, official booster of the Portland Commercial Club, joined the delegation and will accompany them on their trip from now until they reach Portland again next Friday afternoon, when for several hours they will be the guests of the various commercial and social organizations of the city.

On the trip up, the party stopped at many of the principal towns along the route, where they were lavishly entertained and where the glad hand of fellowship was extended with a royal good will.

The members of the party are easily distinguished by the bright golden poppies, the California state flower, which each man wears in his buttonhole, and this little dash of yellow is the open sesame at every city visited by the party.

While en route, the wireless station on the train talked to numerous stations along the line, and was kept in communication with some station throughout practically the entire trip. Members of the party say that this practical test of the operation of wireless on moving trains has forcibly demonstrated its usefulness, and that the time is not far distant when every train will be similarly equipped.

HUSBAND AND WIFE MAKE SUICIDE PACT

Couple Watched by Police, as it is Feared They Will End Lives.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Berkeley, Cal., June 14.—Following the arrest of pretty twenty-year-old Mrs. Jean Thurnher, who confessed to a series of burglaries that approach the operations of Nance Olden, the young woman and her husband, to whom she had been married but ten months, are the objects of close surveillance by the officers. Thurnher is frenzied by his wife's arrest, and the officers fear that both young people may end their lives.

It developed to-day that the girl was arrested several months ago, but the case against her was not prosecuted. The young husband was heartbroken and pleaded with his wife to mend her ways. Together they are said to have struggled to overcome her mania for appropriating other person's property. Finally, Mrs. Thurnher is said to have persuaded her husband to enter into an agreement whereby each was to commit suicide should she again be arrested. In view of Thurnher's half crazed condition, the police fear he will carry out his end of the awful pact.

AN EARLY SILLY SEASON.

BEEF FAMINE IS THREATENED

CATTLE IMPORTATIONS TO BRITAIN DECREASE

Wholesale Dealers Attribute
Shortage to Tactics of American Shippers.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Liverpool, June 14.—Wholesale meat dealers and officials of the Liverpool Meat Traders' Association see in the falling off of cattle importations from the United States and Canada grave danger of a beef famine. Two or three years ago the weekly importations at Birkenhead averaged 5,000 head of cattle. Of late this figure has decreased to 2,000, while last week's supply was but 800.

An official of the Liverpool Association said to-day:
"I am inclined to attribute the present shortage to the tactics of American shippers. Knowing that a famine is imminent, I believe they are holding back their cattle for an increased price. I have been informed also that much frozen meat is stored in refrigerators throughout the country, being held for a higher market. The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce is urging the government to remove the embargo of live cattle from Argentina. This may be a solution to the threatening problem."

A telegram from the Liverpool Association has been received by the president of the board of agriculture, asking an investigation of the conditions.

AUSTRALIANS WIN.

(Special to the Times.)
London, June 14.—On Saturday the Australian cricketers won their match with Somerset by two wickets.

MAIL BAGS CONTAINING $30,000 DISAPPEAR

Employees of Los Angeles Post Office Are Being Shadowed.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., June 14.—Post office inspectors are working to-day on the theory that members of the registry division of the local post office are connected with the disappearance last Saturday of registered mail valued at $30,000. The mail was consigned to a bank at Bisbee, Ariz., and is supposed to have disappeared before it left this city.

Two of the packages, containing $15,000 of the missing currency, were reported to have been found early to-day, but post office inspectors refuse to confirm the rumor. Efforts are being made to make it appear that the missing money was merely mislaid, but it is known that employees of the local post office are being shadowed by secret service operatives.

FIGHT BETWEEN TURKS AND ALBANIANS

Fierce Engagement in Northern Albania—More Troops
Sent to Scene.

(Times Leased Wire.)
London, June 14.—A London news bureau had a dispatch from Athens to-day which says that advances received from Tskub, European Turkey, report a fierce engagement at Djakovitch, in northern Albania, between a force of 10,000 Albanians and 12 battalions of Turkish troops.

The dispatch states that the Albanians were driven back by the accurate fire of the Turkish artillery. The Turkish government is hurrying twelve additional battalions to the scene of the trouble.

PRESIDENT PENNA, OF BRAZIL, DEAD

Head of South American Republic Passes Away
Suddenly.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Washington, D. C., June 14.—Alfonso Penna, president of Brazil, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning, according to dispatches received here from the American minister at Rio de Janeiro.

Dispatches from the Brazilian capital last night stated that Penna was dangerously ill. Up to that time no knowledge had been received that he was not enjoying his usual health.

At the time of his election to the presidency, Penna was vice-president of the republic and president of the Brazilian senate. Previously, he served as president of his state, and governor of the bank of the republic. He was elected to the highest office in the land in 1906, and would have remained in office until 1910. During his administration he accomplished much good for the republic. The consummation of the recently signed arbitration treaty and the negotiation of a sixty million dollar loan for naval purposes were largely the results of his diplomacy and ability.

HON. F. OLIVER'S VISIT TO ENGLAND

(Special to the Times.)
London, June 14.—Writing in the Evening News regarding the reported visit of Hon. Frank Oliver to England to arrange to carry out the policy of the Canadian government to secure only the best class of immigrants, chiefly agriculturists with capital, the president of the Immigration League of Australia portents against such a policy.

"Why should," he asks, "the daughter states seek to skim off the cream of the English rural population and reject all others? By doing so they are far from doing a service to the mother country."

MORSE ASKS ONLY JUSTICE

SAYS CONVICTION DUE TO CLAMOR OF CROWD

Devoted Wife Confident His Appeal Will Be Successful.

(Times Leased Wire.)
New York, June 14.—Scorning sympathy or mercy, Chas. W. Morse, convicted bank wrecker, sent word to-day to the United States Court of Appeals that he asked only for simple justice.

The message was brought by attorney Martin Littleton, who said that Morse was ready to accept his punishment if the court believed him to be guilty as charged.

Morse, in his message, said there was no use for him to appear personally to hear the arguments in his case but he wished to make it plain that he had been unjustly convicted. He said that he was a victim of the clamor of the multitude for blood and that he now demanded his rights as a citizen.

Mrs. Morse, wife of the convicted banker, sat in the court room throughout the proceedings. She conversed with Littleton frequently and seemed to be shaking suggestions as to the conduct of the case.

Mrs. Morse has made a brave fight for her husband, selling her furniture and dismissing her servants to provide money to reimburse his creditors and carry his appeal to the higher courts. She expressed her confidence to-day that her husband would be released from prison as the result of his appeal.

Mrs. Morse showed her disappointment when Littleton informed her that Special Acting Assistant Attorney General Stimson had refused to accede to his application to bail for her husband.

The court granted Littleton's petition to be allowed to argue an appeal from Morse's conviction and refused his application for bail. Each side was allowed three hours for argument.

Opening his argument, Littleton severely arraigned the newspapers which had attacked Morse during his financial reverses and trial. He then proceeded with his legal contentions.

DUKE D'ABRUZZI MAY WED MISS ELKINS

Report That Objections of Royal Family to Match Have Been Overcome.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Naples, June 14.—Plans for the marriage of Duke d'Abruzzi to Katherine Elkins are reported to-day to be the motive for the secret departure of the Duke and Duchess de Guise, who secretly boarded the steamship Berlin, which sailed for New York on Saturday.

It is reported that all objections to the match on the part of the royal family have been overcome, and that Miss Elkins will accompany the Ducal pair when they return here.

THREE ARE SHOT BY CORPORAL

TRIES TO MURDER
COMMANDING OFFICER

Two Other Soldiers Wounded
—Would-be Murderer Attempts Suicide.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Des Moines, Iowa, June 14.—Captain John C. Raymond, commanding officer of troop B, 2nd United States cavalry, stationed at Des Moines, who was shot yesterday by Corporal Lisle Crabtree, will be paralyzed for life if he recovers, according to a statement made by the attending physicians to-day. The bullet entered the captain's neck and lodged close to the spinal column. He has a fair chance to survive his wounds, but he never again will be able to lift his hand.

First Sergeant James H. Washburn and Corporal Elijah Such, who were shot when they attempted to disarm Crabtree, are expected to recover. Crabtree, who attempted to kill himself after his attack upon the officers, is in a critical condition. If he recovers, he will be court-martialed for attempting to commit murder.

The difficulty between Crabtree and Capt. Raymond had its beginning in a reprimand administered by the captain when Crabtree overstayed a leave of absence from the barracks. The corporal suddenly drew a revolver and began firing. Sergeant Washburn and Corporal Such, who were in the room, leaped forward and grappled with Crabtree. Washburn was shot through the hand and jaw. Such received a slight wound.

Raymond escaped the first fusillade, but when he tried to wrest the gun from the frenzied corporal he received a bullet in the neck, and dropped to the floor. Crabtree then turned the gun on himself.

"FLAG DAY" AT THE A.-Y.-P. EXPOSITION

French Ambassador and Mme.
Jusserand to Be Guests of Honor.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Wash., June 14.—The third week of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition was ushered in to-day with many unusual features and a heavy attendance. The celebration of "flag day" was marked by a special musical programme and features of a nature to inspire patriotism. Several addresses were delivered in the amphitheatre and auditorium during the day.

Another interesting event was the unveiling of the statue of George Washington, which has been erected near the main entrance to the exposition. Amid the strains of music and the booming of mortars, the statue of the "Father of His Country" was revealed to the public, when little three-year-old Eleanor Washington-Caldwell, the great granddaughter of John Augustine Washington, the last owner of Mount Vernon, drew aside the veil that covered the likeness of the first president. The statue is to remain permanently on the University of Washington campus.

This evening at 8 o'clock there will be a reception to French Ambassador Jusserand and Mme. Jusserand in the Washington state building, to which has been invited the stockholders and bondholders of the exposition. The interior of the building is decorated with French and American flags and the occasion is expected to be a brilliant one.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON DISAPPEARS IN SEATTLE

Efforts of Father and Police to Find Spokane Youth
Unsuccessful.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Wash., June 14.—Suffering from a nervous breakdown, Chas. P. Oudin, Jr., the 22-year-old son of Chas. P. Oudin, a millionaire brick and tile manufacturer of Spokane, escaped from the Sisters' hospital in that city and came to Seattle, and is completely lost to his parents and friends, despite the most diligent search which has been made for the young man since Thursday night.

Early that evening, following his arrival in Seattle during the day, Oudin, Jr., went to the Union station and called up his father by long distance telephone, requesting that a ticket be wired him so that he could take the train home. The father telegraphed the station agent to supply the transportation, and young Oudin was told where to secure the ticket. This was the last seen or heard of the youth. The father has arrived in Seattle and is personally making a search independent of the efforts of the police to find the wanderer.

Oudin, Jr., has been in falling health for several months.

Outcome of Massacres in Northwestern Persia Awaited
With Interest.

(Times Leased Wire.)
St. Petersburg, June 14.—According to the Nova Vremya, the Shakhsevan tribesmen are ravaging the northwestern provinces of Persia. According to a dispatch from Astara, 5,000 persons have been killed and the leading inhabitants have appealed to the Russian consul for protection.

For several weeks the Czar's troops have been encamped near the Persia frontier, holding themselves in readiness in case of such an outbreak. The outcome of the outbreak of the Shakhsevan is awaited with anxiety.

Several detachments of Russian troops, heavily armed and equipped with machine guns, left to-day to protect the territory from further ravages of the tribesmen.

NEW RESIDENT-GENERAL OF KOREA INSTALLED

Changes in Administration of Affairs in Hermit Kingdom Predicted.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Tokio, June 14.—Many changes in the administration of Korean affairs are predicted here to-day. They probably will go into effect when the new resident general of the hermit kingdom, Viscount Sone, assumes the active duties of his office.

This morning in the imperial court, Viscount Sone formally was inaugurated resident general. The office of vice-resident general has been abolished, and it is thought that a general rearrangement and distribution of official duties among the members of the governmental force in Korea will follow.

One of the principal events of the court ceremonies to-day was the inauguration of Prince Ito, as president of the privy council, an office which carries much responsibility and great honor. Marshal Yamagata was inaugurated advisor of the privy council. The installations were attended with much ceremony.

ABANDONS SEARCH FOR MISSING HUSBAND

Wife of Oregon Mining Man Believes He Has Been Murdered.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Roseburg, Or., June 14.—Despairing of ever seeing her husband alive again, Mrs. M. Porteous, of Los Angeles, Cal., has abandoned what she declares to be a hopeless search for him.

Edward J. Porteous was a well-known Rogue river mining man. He disappeared from Grant's Pass under circumstances that indicate murder, according to Detective J. H. Delamonte, who came here from Los Angeles to assist in the search. Mrs. Porteous has spent three days in the vicinity of West Fork, where her husband was interested in the mining enterprise, but found no trace of him. She now thinks, as Detective Delamonte does, that Porteous was killed by enemies and his body concealed.

The Tale of a Race

Yes, we can get a fine view from here, so now for the Race! There they are, over by the starting post, ready; they are lining up, there! That spout a splendid start. It's Old Bait in one of his tantrums with his ears laid back and sulky. My! but that will wake the old fellow up, a couple of good lashes, he deserves it. See! they are forming up again, here they come they are off! The gate's up, the flag is down and they're away, except Old Bait and he's left at the post. HIS BACKERS CERTAINLY GOT THIS HOOK. Yes! but this rest just coming up the slope, and by George, Combine has the pole, followed closely by Special, with the Bay Mare Anti-Combine on his flank and the rest bunched. Combine is going as if he thought he had the race clinched, but don't be too sure, Old Man, Special is going well, and as for the Mare Anti-Combine, she seems able to stand the pace, and her jockey has her well in hand, while Independence and Westaway are well up, but the rest are commencing to drop back. They are now at the three-quarters post. Hear them shouting: Come on, Combine! Come, Old Mare! Come, GIRL, COME! That is, Public Opinion. Steady, steady, and Special has, just as I expected, taken the bit and bolted the track now they are round the corner and coming up the stretch. By Jimmy, this is a race! Sit down in front, SIT DOWN. Let's stand on the seat, we can't see if we don't. Here they come: Combine, Anti-Combine, Independence and Westaway leading. Come on, they cry! as each favorite appears in the stretch, the rest are just a procession. Combine still has the pole with Independence close to his withers. Anti-Combine and Westaway are taking a little more room, and of the four it looks as if the Old Horse is again in the lead. Let the mare go! Yes, he has now, and look at her come—she just shot past Westaway and is now taking the measure of Independence and the Old Horse Combine. Come on, GIRL, COME! You can hear the cry all over now, as every stride brings the bunch closer to the wire. Why! what was that? Who's down? Yes, by the great jumpy up-jumper. No, he's not! Combine stumbled, pressed too close by Independence, but the old fellow has got his stride again, but not before the mare IS BEYOND! But, what's the matter? Squeaker, the jockey, has been thrown and the horse is coming to the wire without a rider. Come! Independence, come! The Combine faction cry when they see that Combine is OUT OF THE RACE, for this seems to be the time when they have all met their match, and the cheering and howling is simply deafening as Combine (ridiculous), Independent, Westaway and the mare Anti-Combine come for the wire. Sit down! Sit down there! Oh, knock it all, such a finish, and I can't see it. The crowd is yelling Anti-Combine, Anti-Combine, rah, rah, rah, but some are saying that the old horse Combine is hanging on to the mare's nose, with Independence and Westaway well up. What's that you say? What's the result? Well, if you would take an axe and chop down this 30 pounds of humanity in front and throw it out of the way I—but, what's that I hear? The judge says Combine is disqualified, and the jockey, Squeaker, IS VERY BADLY HURT. I guess his day is done. I can't hear what else, so let's go down and look at the board; but the Old Warhorse Combine, the old time boss of them all, THIS TIME anyway will have to bring up at THE TAIL OF THE RACE.

D. L. Gillespie, the deputy game warden, returned this morning on the E. & N. railway from Chemainus after spending four days going over the whole neighborhood. He reports that the game laws are being well observed. While on his trip he saw numbers of deer, but not so many grouse, although on the whole he predicts a good season for sportsmen. Mr. Gillespie says that the woods are getting very dry and that campers, etc., should be extremely careful to watch that they do not start fires which spoil valuable timber and kill numbers of young birds.

On Saturday night the South Saanich council held their regular meeting at which it was decided to fill in the Swan Lake bridge after building a concrete culvert and retaining walls. There were two petitions presented for water on the Gorge road and Talmie avenue. A few communications were dealt with, but the business was strictly of a routine character.

NATIVE SON HERE AFTER LONG ABSENCE

Rev. A. E. Alston is Paying a Visit to Victoria.

An interesting visitor is in Victoria for a few weeks in the person of Rev. Alfred E. Alston, of Framingham, Mass. Rev. Alston, a native of Victoria, although he has spent but a few years of his life here. His father in the early days of the city, when British Columbia was a crown colony, held a position in the government here. He was registrar-general and later acting attorney-general. Just before leaving in 1871 he attained the attorney-generalship. A few years after leaving here Mr. Alston died at Sierra Leone, where he had gone in the Imperial service.

Rev. Mr. Alston, the son, who is now visiting here, was only about 8 years old when the family left Victoria. He recalls many of the old residents, however, and remembers some of the landmarks. When here his father's home was on Fort street on the premises now occupied by Lady Crease, and Mr. Alston remembers the location well. He is deeply interested in renewing acquaintances and visiting old scenes again. He will spend a few weeks in Victoria before starting for home again.

THE PANTAGES.

World's Champion Ragtime Pianist and Singer Here This Week.

The world's champion ragtime pianist and singer, Edw. Barnes, will appear at Pantages to-day. His $5,000 challenge to all other artists is posted in the Pantages lobby, which shows that he is not afraid to defend his title. Victorians are warned that they are going to lose if they fail to take advantage of an opportunity for seeing Mr. Barnes. Chas. A. Taylor's latest farce comedy success, "How Ficker Fixed It," with a very strong cast, Octavia and Warrick, eccentric dancers and singers; Frederic Mossie, the skitful comedian; Adelaide Rogers, singing a beautiful picture ballad; and the biograph complete a pretentious list.

The wedding of Allan M. Oliver, manager of the government telegraph office at Nanaimo, son of J. Oliver, Admiral's road, and Mabel S. Chandler, of Truro, Nova Scotia, took place at Portland, Oregon, on June 7th. Rev. Dr. Foulke performed the ceremony.

On the arrival of the steamer Leelanaw in Seattle yesterday from Nanaimo she was labelled at the instance of W. H. Ferguson, a shipping broker, who has a claim against her for commissions on freight provided several days previous.

The death occurred yesterday at the St. Joseph's hospital of Mrs. Ardelia Ferguson. Deceased was a native of Portland, Ore., and was 55 years of age. The remains have been removed to the Hanna parlors, where they are awaiting instructions from the friends of the deceased in Portland.

Laura Rolles, formerly in the employ of Capt. C. P. Wolley, of Pier Island, was charged in the provincial police court this morning with the theft of jewelry and other goods valued at over $200. The accused was remanded on application of the police until 2 p.m. Wednesday. She was not asked to plead. Accused was employed as a domestic at the home of Capt. Wolley, and some time after her employment commenced several things were missing. A complaint was laid and Provincial Constable Lumley executed a search warrant and found the missing things in the woman's trunk.

PROMPT DELIVERY

COURT OF APPEAL IS SOON TO EXIST

GOVERNMENT WILL PROCLAIM THE ACT

The Provincial Government Has Fixed Date for it.

The provincial court of appeal, which is provided for by the act passed by the legislature two years ago, is to be brought into existence this summer, probably about August next. It is understood that the local government has notified the Dominion government that the new court will be gazetted at an early date, thus giving the Ottawa authorities time to make the appointment of the four judges who will compose the appellate body so that their duties can commence at the close of the long vacation.

It has been patent to all who have anything to do with the law-courts that for months past there has been imperative need of the new court being brought into actual existence, in order to relieve the Supreme court judges of the appeal court duties which fall to them. The work has been accumulating in Victoria so much that at present there are a large number of cases down for trial which cannot be heard for many months. The necessity of a court for its own appellate purposes is shown at the moment. The sitting of the Full Court had to come to a stop last week, almost before it had begun, by reason of the illness of a couple of judges and the need for one of those sitting in appeal to go inland to finish the assizes court work.

What the reason is for the delay which has taken place on the part of the provincial government in proclaiming the act constituting the new court is not clear, but one reason suggested is that the McBride cabinet desires to get the naming of one or two of the prospective judges. The appointment of all members of the judiciary, both in county and superior courts, has always been in the hands of the Federal government, which has also to find the salaries for them.

The legal profession is greatly pleased at the news that the court is to come into being at last, as Victoria has suffered more than any other part of the province from the congestion of legal business. According to the act of 1897 the court is to sit here on the first Tuesday of the months of January and June, and in Vancouver in April and November. As soon as the present Chief Justice of B. C. ceases to hold that office the title goes to the head of the Court of Appeal, and his successors will be called Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

RETURNS TO CITY.

Mr. Justice Martin Will Have to Take a Rest to Recuperate.

Mr. Justice Martin returned to the city on Saturday afternoon from Rossland after an absence of six weeks on circuit in Kootenay. He was assigned by the Chief Justice to hold court at Nelson on May 4th; at Rossland on May 11th; and at Fernie on May 25th; and later, after his arrival in Nelson, he received another assignment directing him to hold a special sittings of the court at Golden in June. The sittings at Nelson lasted over three weeks and that at Rossland took two weeks. Mr. Justice Martin was attacked with an acute form of neuralgia but nevertheless continued to hold court with the result that after he had finished the business at Rossland and was on the point of leaving for Fernie his physician decided that the strain had been too much for him and that he must return home at once so that he might take a short rest from work and recuperate before resuming his customary duties. Already the learned judge feels his condition improved by the rest and change and expects to be able to be at the law courts as usual in the early part of next week.

Work on the paving of Store street has commenced from Johnson street, the old macadam having been taken off from the corner as far as the southern gate to the E. & N. railway yards. The paving of this is to be completed so as to permit of access to the yard by way of Johnson street and this gate, while the rest of the work is in progress. It is intended to get the whole work completed as speedily as possible.

Residents at the upper end of Fernwood road were complaining of the neglected state of an old surface drain into which a good part of the sewerage of the district flows. There has been a large hole in the drain for some time and the stench from the place is something awful at times. They say that if the matter is not attended to at once formal complaint will be made to the provincial health department.

A pause seems to have come in the work of filling in the bridge on the Gorge road. The twenty-fourth having passed the dumping of material into the ravine has stopped, leaving the work half done. Aid. Hummer, to whose persistency the work was carried out as far as it has gone, intends to ask in council why it has not been completed.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Fisher took place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Hanna chapel, Yates street, where the Rev. Dr. Campbell conducted an impressive service. There was a large attendance of sympathizing friends and many flowers were presented. The following acted as pallbearers: S. Harrison, J. B. McCallum, R. Hetherington, J. Foner, H. Huxtable and W. H. Richardson.

CLOSING ARGUMENTS IN CALHOUN TRIAL

San Francisco, Cal., June 14.—One hundred and fifty-three days after the commencement of the trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, charged with the bribery of ex-Supervisor Fred P. Nicholas in connection with the granting of a franchise for an overhead trolley system, the attorneys began their closing arguments to-day.

Assistant District Attorney O'Garra, who has been Special Prosecutor Henry's right hand man throughout the exhausting trial, opened for the prosecution. O'Garra stayed the spirit in which the alleged bribe was offered by the defendant, and made an impassioned appeal to the jury to safeguard the honor of their homes and the integrity of their institutions.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR DINNER GOWN

Mrs. Gould Explains Her Ideas of "Reasonable" Prices for Clothing.

(Times Leased Wire.) New York, June 14.—Katherine Gould resumed the witness stand to-day in her suit for separate maintenance against her husband, Howard Gould, and was subjected to another terrific grilling by Attorney Nicoll, who is conducting the cross-examination for the defence.

Mrs. Gould related the details of an automobile trip to Castle Gould with Dustin Farnum, on September 19th. An accident occurred on the trip and they returned to their apartments in different machines.

Explaining her ideas for "reasonable" prices for clothing, Mrs. Gould gave the following table:

Morning gown, $150; afternoon gown, $50; tea gown, $350 to $500; dinner gown, $500; street dress, $250; hats, $40 to $80.

She said she hired an automobile at $500 a month while staying at the Belmont, where her apartment cost $300 a week and declared that it costs $300 a month for servants to keep up a private house in New York.

On sur-rebuttal she declared that gown was of no value after being worn once at Palm Beach or at the St. Regis, where she changed her clothing three times a day.

LOOSE SHOE STRINGRESPONSIBLE FOR DEATHS

Two Railway Men Killed by Switch Engine at Fresno.

Fresno, Cal., June 14.—At the inquest over the remains of two railroad men who were run over and killed by a switch engine in the local yards, it was brought out that the men lost their lives because of a loose shoe-string.

All the witnesses testified that they saw Switchman Gasquet step over between the rails to tie his shoestring, and that he did not notice the oncoming freight cars and locomotive. Assistant Yardmaster H. W. McIntosh gave his life in a vain attempt to save Gasquet. He rushed to the latter and tried to pull him away from the track, but Gasquet pulled the other way and both were run down.

SOUTH AFRICANFEDERATION ASSURED

Referendum in Natal is Overwhelmingly in Favor of Union.

Durban, June 14.—A referendum held to decide whether or not Natal should join the South African Union has resulted in favor of the junction by a vote of 11,121 to 2,701.

This assures the complete federation of the South African colonies, the Transvaal, Cape Colony, Orange River Colony, and Natal.

Practically the entire population of Natal is British, and the disincorporation of a considerable element to enter the union was caused by the fear that the confederation would be dominated by the Dutch.

MYSTERIOUS SUICIDE OF WOMAN IN LONDON

Newspapers Declare News of the Coroner's Inquest Was Suppressed.

London, June 14.—Several Sunday papers print long accounts of what they call the mysterious case of Mary Agnes Ruiz, who committed suicide in this city on May 16th. They lay particular stress upon the suppression of news of the inquest, and her relations with an American multi-millionaire. Lloyd's Weekly News attributes the woman's suicide to her "mad infatuation for A. G. Vanderbilt," and charges that the reporters present at the inquest were bribed to refrain from mentioning the case. The verdict of the coroner's jury was "suicide while of uncertain mind."

Charles F. Williamson, of Paris, who settled the affairs and paid a large staff at Mrs. Ruiz's Grosvenor street establishment, was the first witness at the inquest. He identified the body and testified that he acted as her agent. She was the wife of a wealthy Cuban, from whom she had separated. Later, he said, she had been in ill-health and depressed, and had declared that she was tired of life.

Miss Elizabeth Caney, who was the companion of Mrs. Ruiz since last January, testified that Mrs. Ruiz had been very depressed at times, and took tablets for insomnia. She kept a revolver, according to the witness, who further stated that her mistress was looking very ill on the evening of May 16th. Miss Caney declared that she had no idea that Mrs. Ruiz had a bullet hole in her breast. A revolver with one empty chamber, was lying on the bed. Servants testified that they heard no shot, and there was no doubt that the case was one of suicide.

Reynolds' newspapers say that the extraordinary efforts were made to prevent the staff at the private hospital where Mrs. Ruiz died four hours after the shooting from discussing the case, and the servants of the Grosvenor house were hurried to Paris. Alfred G. Vanderbilt cannot be found in London. He has not appeared at the inquest, and the evening papers first mentioned the suicide on Thursday.

SOUNDING BRASS, ETC.

None of us knew what a mighty man Mr. G. H. Barnard, M. P., was, or is, until we read an account of his wonderful works as related at a meeting of the Conservative party of Victoria held on Saturday evening. The member for Victoria, according to another eminent Victorian, Mr. William Blake-More, the esteemed and irreproachable chairman of the meeting (who is diligently preparing the way for his own candidature at the next provincial election) said things at Ottawa which stirred the whole Empire up to a tremendous pitch of enthusiasm. He called the attention of the Dominion government to a fact which that government, in its ignorance of geography and other things, never knew about the importance of Esquimaux as a naval station, the result being that the station is to be taken over by the said government and continued as a naval base. It is true that the government had determined upon taking over the station years ago and that the only thing which delayed the transfer was the necessity of Imperial action, which has been promised during the present session of the British Parliament. But when an inspired orator is aroused, why should his imagination or his veracity be hampered by such trifling things as mere facts? Mr. Barnard, we are also told, by the sheer force of his tremendous personality, would have compelled the Dominion government to construct five or six dreadnoughts and present them to the Imperial government—but for the fact that it would have been impolitic to assert himself and his personal magnetism too strongly. If he had gone too far, if he had been too imperious in his demands, the fact might have been apparent to the whole world that Canada was not a unit on this vital principle of Imperial defence. So our tremendous member was content to follow the counsel of his own leaders and of such a commonplace character, comparatively, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who held that the proper and the reasonable course to follow was to first consult the Imperial authorities and afterwards to act upon their suggestions.

We might go on enumerating indefinitely the great qualities and accomplishments of this wonderful man Mr. G. H. Barnard, M. P., if space would permit and the estimates of his panegyricists were wholly credible to our readers. But we must be brief. Mr. E. A. Lewis, another eminent Conservative, asserts that Mr. Barnard has the people's confidence. What can we do but accept Mr. Lewis's judgment as final? Then another eminent Victorian, another distinguished citizen who occupies one of the seats of the mighty and has done much for Victoria in that position, spoke of the strenuous manner in which Mr. Barnard had fought at Ottawa in Victoria's interests. We refer to Premier McBride. It was not the member's fault, as the Premier pointed out, that he had not accomplished more for Victoria than he did. It was due to the unfortunate fact that the member sits upon the opposition side of the House. Mr. McBride, of course, was not casting a boomerang of sarcasm at himself when he cut this unfortunate shaft loose. He is also a member for Victoria. He is the head of a government. As the head of that government he is faithfully supported by three other representatives of Victoria, and yet he and his faithful following have not done anything noteworthy upon behalf of this city that we are aware of or that the most servile of his following in this city can "point to with pride." On the contrary, they have permitted the city they represent to be shorn of many of the public institutions which elsewhere are properly and logically considered to belong to the capital of a province. We might particularize, but it is hardly necessary. The people know all about the removal of the law courts and the headquarters of the provincial educational system. On the other hand, we shall probably be told that as an offset to these things a number of prisoners have been removed from the provincial jail on the mainland to the jail in Victoria, and that after all the Conservative party is intensely loyal both in its sentiments and its personality. Also that whom the party loveth it chasteneth. Hence it has given indubitable proof of its love for the long-suffering and easily deluded city of Victoria.

OPENED FOR BUSINESS.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company has issued its first time table—the first that has come into our possession, at all events. The document is an interesting and important one for several reasons. It marks the opening for passenger business—meaning that the roadbed has been brought up to the highest standard of a new line of railway in Canada covering a territory nearly six hundred and seventy miles in extent. Along this stretch of country, scores of new railway stations have been established. We are told that the line traverses the very richest region of the prairie country. Doubtless thousands of settlers have gone in there upon the strength of the prospect of railway facilities. Now that the line is actually completed and doing business, there is ample warrant for the assurance that thousands more will follow these pioneers. The Grand Trunk Pacific is a new artery, and from this a flood of immigration will flow annually until the new provinces are as thickly settled as the most fertile of the more southerly states of the American republic. It is true seven hundred miles is but a small portion of the three thousand miles of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway; but the work which has already been done amply justifies the faith of the Dominion government in providing for the construction of the whole of the line. The Canadian Pacific Railway is a wonderful corporation. It has accomplished great things for Canada. But to hold, as the opponents of the Grand Trunk Pacific held in voicing their opposition to that enterprise, that the existing railways were quite capable of providing for the development of the Canadian West, was the veriest nonsense. There is scope for the energy and the enterprise and for the employment of all the capital not only one, but many railways can apply in the northern sections of new Canada. After the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern and the Great Northern have driven their rails through British Columbia and the prairie provinces, the results will simply be to emphasize the necessity for more railways. And as for the northern portions of Ontario and Quebec, the eastern section of the Grand Trunk system will, unless all signs fail, disclose the fact that there is a great inland empire there which may prove more opulent than the thin line of settled country which now lies along the international boundary line. The government which projected the new transcontinental railway line will be lauded by future generations—yes, by the present generation of Canadians—for the faith it displayed in the potentialities of the Greater Canada of the North.

Disingenuous Mr. Barnard says he was impelled to oppose a loan to the Grand Trunk Pacific Company not because that concern was not just as much entitled to government assistance as the C. P. R. was a number of years ago, but because the security in the latter case was not as good as in the first. You see the Canadian Pacific Railway received a grant of twenty-five million acres of land from a former government, besides twenty-five million dollars in cash and hundreds of miles of road already constructed, while the G. T. P. did not receive an acre of public land. Hence it had no land to turn over as security. But there are about seven hundred miles of railway already completed, equipped and in operation by the Grand Trunk Pacific upon the prairies, not to speak of other hundreds of miles partially completed. That ought to be fairly good security for a ten million dollar loan.

George Henry Barnard was neither frank nor candid, not even passing honest, when he failed to expose that telegram forgery, knowing about it twenty-four hours before polling day. He did not strengthen his position as a public man nor add to his reputation as an honorable man when he refused to resign a seat dishonestly won after the manner of his election had been publicly exposed in the House of Commons. Nor did he add materially to any reputation he may have for veracity when he repeated at a public meeting on Saturday evening that old Tory fable, exploded time and again, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway would be thirteen million dollars. However, it may be that Mr.

Barnard is determined in his line of public conduct to live up to the circumstances under which he commenced his public career.

An institution which one disgusted contributor to the Times describes as "an annex to a gambling joint," is now issuing three editions a day, devoted chiefly to telling foolish and credulous people how they may "beat the booksies" at the race track. It may be a question whether in this matter the limits of the criminal law are not transgressed. But certainly the traditions of Canadian journalism have been outraged.

Talk about patriotism, where can you find it more conclusively demonstrated than in the case of an old Victoria family of wealth and influence and political zeal which never by any chance buys anything—not even a palatial motor boat—here which can be procured elsewhere?

What Other People Think

GENERAL OTTER.

To the Editor:—I notice in the Colonist of the 12th June some lengthened remarks of General Otter.

His ideas may seem forcible to the residents of this city, which is the most western outpost of the British Empire, but there are a few men in Victoria to-day who have seen both military and naval service, whose experience is directly opposed to the opinion of the Canadian officer referred to, who is well known in commercial and military martinet circles, especially in the commissariat department.

ED. SCROPE SHRAPNEL, R. C. A.
176 Fort St., Victoria, B. C.

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE.

To the Editor:—There are two or three things which I would like to bring before the city fathers, that poor, old, ever-abused body of men, though I do not wish to do so out of any spirit of animosity, as I think the present council is one of the best that this city of Victoria has ever had.

First of all, the pavement proposition. It is a good many years since the old James Bay bridge was removed and replaced by the present causeway, and during all these years not a shovel has been taken hold of to prepare the way for putting down some permanent roadway. Surely now that we have the beautiful Empress hotel, one of the best in Canada, it would be money well spent. Visitors certainly would appreciate it, and we residents would not have to grope our way over to town through the blinding mists whenever a little wind happens to come along. Of course, plenty of dirt nor colicous bespattered with dust and slime. Hurry up, ye civic bosses, and give us what we are all looking for.

The water question, too, is an old story, and it will always remain an old story, as there is evidently no hope of anything better for some time to come. Day after day we have the certain assurance of those who know that the water supply will be quite adequate for all this summer, but the longest day of the year is not very far away and still this "adequacy" seems to be as far away as ever. Of course, we poor residents who are unfortunate enough to have our homes south of the government buildings cannot expect to have any water, even though we do pay for it, at least one dozen and a half sprinklers can be seen running full force on these truly beautiful grounds, and another dozen on the grounds of the Empress buildings, evidently using up all the water. We would not in the least begrudge all this "aquatic" if we could get a reasonable amount ourselves, but we can't, so we "kick," unless though it seems. Beautifying our places is all very well, but we cannot do it without water, so we have to let our gardens and lawns get on as best they can. The higher levels—Rockland avenue, etc.—are also often terribly short of water, some people having to exist for "days and days" without even taking a bath.

The city water carts, too, do not by any means seem to be working overtime, and if it were not for this quite good arrangement provided by the Tramway Company we should indeed be a "dusty" people.

The tourist traffic is just commencing, and as we must cater to this class of travel surely we might get busy and do things and other things so that these same people will either come back themselves or else tell others and induce them to come to our truly naturally beautiful city and not allow them to carry away from us and lose of our valuable real estate in the shape of dust.

COLONIST VAGARIES.

To the Editor: It is passing strange how the Colonist can publish the stuff it does and expect an intelligent public to take its utterances seriously. In its issue of this morning (Saturday last), it solemnly assures its readers in an editorial note that "Victoria must have more water and must get it just as soon as it can be obtained. In the same issue it publishes an interview with Mayor Hall in which the latter declares that "there will be an ample supply of water this summer just as soon as the works now nearing completion are finished." Which of these two statements does the Colonist expect its readers to accept?

Everybody knows that the apparent shortage of water now being felt by the residents of certain streets is not owing to any defect in the supply, for there is at the present time an abundance of water in the lake, but owing to the smallness of the pipe on those streets and the increased demands being made just now for sprinkling purposes. In other words the capacity of the pipe is not sufficient to meet the demands being made upon it. If we had all the water of lake Superior at the other end of the pipe the latter would be practically the same. When the new reservoir is completed and fitted with it, by increasing the pressure, help to remedy this shortage, but nothing will prove a satisfactory solution of the difficulty until the larger pipes are laid in those sections of the city where this shortage is being felt.

There is no shortage where the larger mains have been laid. The Colonist, of course, is right in this, but instead of dealing candidly with the subject it appears to prefer to use this apparent shortage in certain sections of the city as a sort of bugaboo to scare the people into buying the Esquimaux property.

Again, in the same issue the Colonist says editorially: "It (the Esquimaux Water Co.) owns a valuable property and a very valuable franchise. There is no other such property in British Columbia, and no such franchise could be obtained from the legislature again. By and bye, when it is too late, the citizens of Victoria will realize that they have thrown away a great opportunity."

If the Colonist keeps on much longer in that strain it will no doubt succeed in convincing the shareholders of the Esquimaux Water Company that they should have three or four million dollars from the city should their property be taken by arbitration.

There is no other such property in British Columbia, and no such franchise could be obtained from the legislature again." Splendid material that to present to a board of arbitration, as the unbiased sentiments of a great organ of public opinion in this city. That paper has no interest in the Esquimaux Company, of course. It is on the side of the people every time. It is just magnifying the value of a property which the city is seeking to acquire in order that the city may get it cheap.

There are some other motives not very apparent to the lay mind. In any case it is absolutely disinterested and is fighting the battle of the people against the corporations and vested interests every time. Let everybody bear that in mind.

There are over 3,000 motor cars in London.

At a meeting of the directors of the Royal Jubilee hospital, held recently, it was decided to hold the annual meeting of donors and subscribers on Tuesday, June 29th in the board of trade rooms.

A meeting of the Daughters of Pity will be held in the board of trade rooms at 2:30 to-morrow afternoon. A full attendance of members is requested as final arrangements will be made for the fête to be given at the Japanese gardens on the afternoon and evening of the 25th.

A meeting of the Epworth League of the Metropolitan Methodist church will be held this evening in the league room of the church. An address will be given by Rev. A. E. Roberts on "The Wise Use of Influence." Miss West will occupy the chair.

A meeting of the Life Boat and Life Saving Association will be held on Wednesday next in the committee room of the city hall. His Worship Mayor Hall will preside at the meeting. A large attendance is looked for and a stirring report and appeal will be presented and officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Dr. and Mrs. Powell have received word announcing the success of their son, Robert Powell, who has succeeded in passing his final examinations for admission to the English bar. He has been studying at Lincoln's Inn, London, for several years and his success will be learned with pleasure by his many friends in this city.

The province of British Columbia will have as its representatives to the annual convention of Washington State Good Roads Association, which will be held on the A. Y. P. exposition grounds from July 4th to 8th, Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of works, and P. C. Cambie, public works engineer. A special invitation was extended to this province by Senator Hill, president of the association, and was readily accepted.

There was a fairly well attended meeting of local Conservatives at the A. O. U. W. hall on Saturday night to hear G. H. Bardard, M. P., and other leading lights of the party speak, and incidentally to smoke cigars. W. Blakemore presided, and, although there were not many to hear his opening address, the audience increased to such an extent that the hall was more than half full when Mr. Bardard rose to speak. Before he had finished, however, the number had decreased considerably and by the time Premier McBride put his motion of confidence in the sitting member there were only a few of the old brigade to say "Aye" and to join in the National Anthem. Most of the enthusiasm seemed to be spent on the singers, who were decidedly entertaining.

NEW PASTOR PREACHES IN CENTENNIAL CHURCH

Rev. Andrew Henderson an Earnest Preacher and Good Speaker.

There were large congregations present at the Centennial Methodist church yesterday, when Rev. Andrew Henderson preached his first sermons as pastor of that church. Mr. Henderson is a thoughtful and earnest preacher, and withal clothes his words in, at times, very poetic form.

At the morning service he spoke on the necessity of progress to happiness; of growth in the spiritual life as well as the material. The Christian life, he said, was compared to the rising and course of the sun, an analogy which was beautiful, apt and almost perfect. Every Christian should remember the dawn of their spiritual life, and its gradual unfolding, comparable to the growing of the dawn unto the perfect day. In that life there must be progress and work for others. The Christian must labor to help others, must not receive, but give; must not be served, but serve. Better blunder along in the effort to do some good to the world than stand on one side criticizing the efforts of other people.

At the close of the service, Mr. Henderson referred to his coming among a new congregation, and thanked the ladies' Aid for their kindly labors in preparing the parsonage for the reception of his family. Were Rev. S. J. Thompson present he would thank him for the splendid way in which he had left everything connected with the congregation. The spirit of courage and optimism which he found in the congregation and all the church organizations was most encouraging to a new pastor, and he looked forward to a useful and fruitful pastorate among this people.

In the afternoon Mr. Henderson addressed the children in the Sabbath school and in the evening he preached on "A specialist of the best type," dealing with the value of the Christian life to the community.

On Wednesday evening next a congregational social will be held for the purpose of welcoming the new pastor and his family, and enabling the members of the congregation to become acquainted with them. The other Methodist ministers of the city will be invited.

The Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association meets in annual convention in Seattle Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

BOWLING GREEN FORMALLY OPENS

INTERESTING EVENT SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Oliphant Performed Ceremony and Mayor Hall Rolled First Bowl.

The bowling green in Beacon Hill park was formally opened on Saturday afternoon very successfully. It was in splendid condition and certainly showed for the pains and money the club has spent on it. There was a large assemblage of bowlers and the public at the opening, a great number of ladies being present.

Mrs. William Oliphant, wife of the president of the bowling club, opened the green by throwing the "jack," and Mayor Hall then rolled the first bowl. President Oliphant declared the green open to play in a short speech.

Mayor Hall congratulated the club on the fact that they had so fine a green, and wished the game success. In spite of some opposition, he said, the green had been laid by the enterprise of the club, and was now open to all lovers of the fine old game in Victoria to play on.

Richard Hall, vice-president of the club, said he was glad to be present on the occasion of the first green ever opened by a lady. It was, from all he could learn, the finest green on the continent, and Victoria should be proud of it. The more the city went into athletic enterprise in this way the more it would go ahead. Great credit was due Mr. Oliphant, he remarked, for the bringing of this enterprise to such a successful conclusion.

On behalf of the club, Mr. Hall then presented Mrs. Oliphant with a very handsome sunshade. Refreshments were served to everybody present, Mrs. Oliphant being the hostess, assisted by other ladies connected with the club. All eight rinks were busy during the afternoon and evening, at least one hundred players indulging in the game. The first game played was, following immemorial tradition, between rinks skipped by the president and the vice-president, the former turning out the victors.

ELECTRIC RUNABOUT.

Mrs. T. W. Paterson Has Convenient Machine Equipped With Storage Battery.

A very handsome electric runabout has been received by Mrs. T. W. Paterson and was seen about the city to-day. Senator Riley acting as chauffeur for his daughter. The car is a Studebaker, of brougham type, and is run by a current of 220 volts from storage batteries compactly placed at the rear of the car, capable of driving it easily at a speed of twenty miles an hour.

The car is replete with every modern contrivance for comfort, and runs noiselessly and without any of the inconveniences of the ordinary power motor.

A small fire at the residence of Mrs. Gregg, 746 Burdette avenue, gave the fire department a run on Saturday morning. Some hot ashes had been placed against the side of the woodshed and caused the fire. Yesterday afternoon an alarm was rung in from box No. 5, and when the brigade responded they found a small fire at the residence, 210 Menzies street. No damage was done in either case.

A special meeting is called of the district L. O. L. to be held in the A. O. U. W. hall on Monday, June 14th inst., at 8 p. m. sharp. Business of importance will be transacted regarding the 12th of July celebration. All members are requested to be present. Visitors are welcome.

Robin Hood Flour, Canada's Newest Greatest Flour, Continues to Grow in the User's Favor

"ROBIN HOOD FLOUR" started out well. It made an immediate impression by its "goodness," by the amount of bread it makes in comparison with other flours, and by the sweet, mealy flavor of the loaves made from it.

When you are using add more water than with the flours you formerly bought. Then note the result. You get more bread, of more nutritious quality.

We are sending our staff of "Robin Hood" girls to every home in Victoria to let you know something about this wonderful, satisfying flour, to tell you why it has been so sensationally successful, and to get your order for a trial bag. Be sure and give them an order. It will prove its value. And Robin Hood Flour is sold under a positive guarantee. Your money back if not satisfied after two fair trials.

Every woman in Victoria ought to be using ROBIN HOOD FLOUR now. If you haven't tried it start now. Order a bag the next time you buy flour. You will certainly be delighted with it. And remember that "this DIFFERENT flour" is always guaranteed.

FIVE THOUSAND ATTEND RACES

NAPA NICK WINNER OF LADIES' PLATE

Winner of Big Prize Clips One-fifth Off Track's Record.

The race course on Saturday was a brilliant scene when five thousand people assembled for the second Saturday of the meeting and filled the stand, the boxes and the board promenade in front of the stand. The crowd contained thirty per cent of ladies and it is evident the fair sex of Victoria have learned to appreciate the efforts of the club to cater for their special convenience and comfort. The delightful weather, a fast track and close finisher with a well-conditioned horse, a continuous stream of humanity passing and repassing, excellent music by the city band under the direction of Henry Rogers all served towards the unequalled success of the seventh day. A little novelty was infused into the meeting by the introduction of the first harness race, the Ladies' Plate, which was won by Napa Nick, a fast track and close finisher with a well-conditioned horse, a continuous stream of humanity passing and repassing, excellent music by the city band under the direction of Henry Rogers all served towards the unequalled success of the seventh day. NEARLY TEN THOUSAND PAID OUT IN PRIZES

H. Mack is Biggest Winner—McIntyre and Kelly Best Jockeys.

For the first seven days of racing the Victoria Country Club has distributed among the horsemen at the Oak Bay track, the tidy sum of $9,000. No less than sixty-seven owners have shared in this distribution, and as horsemen are noted as liberal spenders, it is easily imaginable how the merchants of Victoria have profited and will continue to do so for the entire period of racing here.

Harry Mack, by reason of having won three races and been in the money several times, heads the list of the winning owners. W. D. Millard has also annexed three purses, and is second on the list. The St. James stable, owing to the poor showing of its horses, is away down in the list. When the horses of Mr. Wheatcroft get into real good condition the stable's earnings will increase. At present they are not gathering much for the owner. Following is the list of horsemen who have won over $100 at the meeting:

Of the jockeys now riding at the Oak Bay track, Willie McIntyre, on his performance during the first week of the season, seems to be the bright particular star of the local riding colony. He is riding in grand form now, and although his percentage is only slightly better than that of W. Kelly and J. King, he ought to stay in the front during the entire season. "Cricket" Kelly, who is riding for Matt Ries, is showing some of the form that made him famous a few seasons ago, and if he continues to ride as well during the remainder of the season he should finish not very far from the top of the winning jockey list. J. King is doing remarkably well, being third in the list. This boy is a vigorous rider and with a little more experience will be as good as the best of them.

Eighteen jockeys have won one or more races during the first seven days of the meeting. Following is the list, with the number of times first, second and third:

VICTORIA PLAYERS WIN SECOND MATCH Local Baseball Team Defeats Seattle in Sensational Finish.

The Victoria baseball team defeated the Seattle Cubs on Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic park, thereby winning both matches of the series of two games, from the Cubs. The audience which witnessed Saturday's game was not large, but went away satisfied that they had got their money's worth.

The game was fast throughout, and in the first three innings the men went out in one, two, three order. The Cubs started things off first on Saturday, the same as they did on Friday evening, and in the fourth innings got two men across the plate. In the fifth innings they got four more men across the plate. Moore was responsible for letting two of these cross the plate.

He picked up a grounder and threw to second to catch a man there. But the ball went high over the second baseman's head and two men beat it for all they were worth and reached home. Bob Peden was in the box for the local lads on Saturday, and pitched a good ball. In only two of the nine innings did the Cubs get any runs, but he was not altogether responsible for these.

With the score at 6 runs to nil in the seventh innings the fans thought that Victoria had not a show. But they then started a batting rally and of nine men who were up to the bat, five crossed the plate. Munah, who was playing short stop for Victoria, got a safe hit to first. Then Schaffer got a safe hit to first and sent Munah to second base. McMilloy slammed out a beauty that brought in Munah and Schaffer, but he got out on second. The fans in the grand stand by this time were wild, but when Peden got a two-bagger and Wattelet's hit brought him in, there was no end to the applause.

Then Plummer hit one between first and second for two bags, and brought in Wattelet. Robertson's hit brought in Plummer. Robertson, however, got out and Burns, to please the Cubs, fanned out.

In the eighth innings McMilloy scored on Peden's hit, making the score six runs to six. The Cubs did not get any more in the ninth, but when the local lads came to the bat Plummer hit out for one bag and Moore landed out a beauty, scoring Plummer and winning the game.

The scores by innings were as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Victoria	0	0	0	2	4	0	0	0	0	6

WESTMINSTERS DEFEAT VANCOUVER TEAM First Match for Season Between Them Goes to Champions.

New Westminster Lacrosse team, the champions of the world, defeated Vancouver on the Westminster grounds on Saturday the score being 8 to 5.

For sixty-five minutes they battled on even terms the score standing even on into the fourth quarter at 5 to 5, and then with the rallying burst of speed that has made the Royal city home famous, Charlie Welch's proteges went in and notched three goals in rapid succession. New Westminster won the first game of the season, and won it handily.

The Vancouver boys did well. For three-quarters they kept on even terms. Not remarkably for its speed, the game was no walking match, and there was nothing especially slow in the way the players covered the ground. Westminster was right there with the same old snappy pass, and the long galloping stride that eats up the ground like a racehorse. That is where the red shirts had it on the Vancouver boys.

The Vancouver boys, fairly good on team work, were a trifle slow in passing and their home gave the Westminster defence too long to cover up. If they had bared in more and wasted less time in circling around looking for a safe place to pass, their score would at least have jumped up a couple of notches.

It looked as if the game would actually finish without a penalty, but it was not so. For a four and a half minute before time Galbraith and "Newy" Lalonde got together and continued the precedent established between the teams years ago. Tommy Gifford butted in on the argument, and the whole three got ten minutes each. They then went off for cross checking O'Brien.

The line up of the teams were as follows.

Vancouver	New Westminster
Gibbons	Point
McConaghy	Goal
W. Matheson	Cover
Clarkson	1st defence
Clark	2nd defence
Ravey	3rd defence
Taylor	Centre
G. Matheson	1st home

Lalonde	Inside home

VICTORIA BOY DOES WELL IN ALBERTA

A. R. Pennock of This City Has Valuable Home-Steal.

A notable example of how Victoria boys succeed, recently observed, is the case of A. R. Pennock, eldest son of the well-known Yates street jeweler. This boy—he is barely twenty years of age—conceived the idea a little over a year ago, of taking up land in the province of Alberta. On approaching his father on the subject, that gentleman willingly gave his consent; but took the sensible course of impressing upon the boy that he was adopting this career on his own responsibility and would have to carry it through on his own shoulders, without any expectation of assistance from home should his youth and inexperience land in financial difficulties.

man who is honest, heady and willing to work can generally find employment, and it was not long before Pennock had secured a position with one of the Grand Trunk railway's grading outfits as caretaker of a team of six healthy mules. For a boy who barely knew how to harness a single horse, such a job as caring for and driving half a dozen mules in a team might have been considered as presenting insuperable difficulties, but the young Victorian was made of the right stuff, and handled his unruly charges with a skill and success which provoked the astonishment and admiration of the foreman of the gang, who had originally offered him the work more in a spirit of a rough joke on a "tenderfoot" than because he thought so young and inexperienced a lad was capable of tackling it. So well, indeed, did young Pennock acquit himself that he was requested to return and take up the same job for the following season.

The homesteads which the two lads have selected are in the vicinity of Erma, a new townsite on the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway in Alberta, and since they took up the land the company's rails have been laid right through their property, which is not more than half a mile from the town. This latter place, although but five months old, is like all the prairie railroad towns, growing with amazing rapidity. It already boasts of several business establishments, lots are being bought up rapidly, and a railway station is in course of construction. The properties of young Pennock and Pringle adjoin each other, the land is of very high quality and their position on the railway so close to a growing town places both these lads in the enviable situation of owning property worth several thousand dollars, secured through their own hard work at an age when many boys are still being supported by their parents.

W. H. Pennock, who left Victoria a few weeks ago to visit his son in his new home, has just returned here, and is naturally highly gratified at the boy's success, and also very pleased with the prospects of Alberta; the climate of which, he says, though severe in winter, does not appear to be in any way injurious to health, judging from his son's appearance.

While Mr. Pennock is proud and gratified at the financial and social standing his son is taking at so early an age among his fellowmen, he lays stress on the good influences resulting from the boy's early training, he having been for a number of years connected with Christ Church cathedral here, where he was a member of the choir and where he received a training which developed in him the industry and steadiness of character which have supported him so well on his entrance into the battle of life.

SEATTLE WINS BY A SMALL MAJORITY

Albion Cricket Eleven Were Thirteen Runs Behind.

The Albions just missed a win against the Seattle eleven Saturday on a fast wicket at Woodland park by 13 runs. The Seattle skipper won the toss and extended the courtesy to the visitors, presenting them with the first use of the wicket.

Briggs and Lawrence effected the dismissal of the Albions in short order, but two of the side reaching double figures. They were: Hallam 10 and Brown 18.

Seattle did little better and the game was won for them by Briggs, who scored 18 and was the only double figure, although three of the others reached 9. In the attempt to get a win the Albions tried Gardner, Spain, Ashby, and Brown, who between them bowled the Seattle side for 67. Ashby secured five of the wickets. The scores were:

VICTORIA CRICKETERS DEFEAT BURRARDS

Players Win Match in Vancouver on Saturday Afternoon.

Victoria cricket team, playing in Vancouver on Saturday, won a victory by 58 runs over the Burrards. The weather was very warm but a good game was played. For the Burrards, H. Rhodes played a very fine innings, with A. Downes coming a close second to him.

For Victoria, Alexis Martin treated the spectators to a faultlessly played innings, scoring 46 runs. L. York assisted him for a well-played 34. Scott and Marshall were also valuable members of the local team.

SUGGESTED IMPROVEMENTS.

WOODWARD TO WALK AGAINST STONE

Six Mile Event Planned at Esquimalt Dry Dock To-night.

W. G. Stone, of the H. M. S. Algerine, and E. S. Woodward, of the Victoria West Athletic Club, are matched to walk a six-mile race to-night, commencing at 7:45 p. m.

The race will take place at the Esquimalt dry dock. The men will walk round the pathway at the head of the dry dock until they have completed the six miles distance. The match is important in the Esquimalt district as there has been considerable discussion as to the merits of the two men, and supporters of the navy and the Victoria West Athletic Club will be lined up to-night to watch the event on behalf of their representatives.

Officials were appointed to act in the event Saturday. They are as follows: Starter, Lieut. Benson; stewards, W. G. Saunders, J. Byrne, H. Hawse; timekeeper, G. Black; judge, A. J. Brace, who will also lead the august mantle of the Victoria branch of the B. C. A. A. U. to the affair.

THE WOMEN OF SPAIN.

The vast majority of Spanish women still believe that it is degrading for a lady to take up any work for which she is paid. Therefore if they do not marry they either enter a convent or live with a member of the family, and they do not at all mind being dependent on the charity of friends or relatives.

Though marriages are often arranged without the consent of the bride-elect, law or custom gives the Spanish woman the power of appealing to a magistrate if she wishes to escape from the union which is distasteful to her.

The magistrate may take her from her father's home until she is of age, while if she determines to marry a man of whom her parents disapprove she may also place herself under the protection of the law, and she cannot be deprived of her share of the family estate.

On reaching her majority she enjoys the same privileges as her brother with regard to property, and may inherit, will buy and sell; but when she marries she reverts to the position of a minor, and her husband has entire control of all her possessions, which he can squander without rendering any account to her, though she cannot spend a penny of her own money without his consent. He may desert her and her children without incurring any punishment or much public condemnation. A Spanish lady confers on her husband the title of nobility and any privilege connected therewith she may possess at the time of her marriage.

Public opinion is still so strongly opposed to their education that it will be a long time before they are fitted to take their share in their country's work, and many women are so ignorant that they can hardly read their missals or write their names. This is especially the case in small country towns. At Madrid schools have been opened for their instruction, and the classes have been conducted by excellent professors, but comparatively few women have availed themselves of the privileges.

Inter-Collegiate Meet.

Seattle, Wash., June 14.—Athletes of the Northwest colleges opened the exposition stadium Saturday with the conference meet, and the runners, jumpers and strong men of the state college carried off the honors. The final score was: State college 63; Oregon Agricultural college 32; Whitman 18; University of Idaho 13, and University of Washington 5.

YACHTING.

SPIRIT II VS. RIVAL.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., June 14.—The Seattle-built yacht, Spirit II, will leave this afternoon for Everett, where she will meet the Everett yacht Rival tomorrow in the first of the trial races. The second and third trials will be held on the Seattle course, and the result of the three will determine which of the two boats will challenge the Alexandria of Vancouver, for the international races. Ted Goary, designer of the Spirit, took his boat out for her final tuning up yesterday afternoon. The boat showed up splendidly.

WOODWARD TO WALK AGAINST STONE

Six Mile Event Planned at Esquimalt Dry Dock To-night.

W. G. Stone, of the H. M. S. Algerine, and E. S. Woodward, of the Victoria West Athletic Club, are matched to walk a six-mile race to-night, commencing at 7:45 p. m.

The race will take place at the Esquimalt dry dock. The men will walk round the pathway at the head of the dry dock until they have completed the six miles distance. The match is important in the Esquimalt district as there has been considerable discussion as to the merits of the two men, and supporters of the navy and the Victoria West Athletic Club will be lined up to-night to watch the event on behalf of their representatives.

Officials were appointed to act in the event Saturday. They are as follows: Starter, Lieut. Benson; stewards, W. G. Saunders, J. Byrne, H. Hawse; timekeeper, G. Black; judge, A. J. Brace, who will also lead the august mantle of the Victoria branch of the B. C. A. A. U. to the affair.

THE WOMEN OF SPAIN.

The vast majority of Spanish women still believe that it is degrading for a lady to take up any work for which she is paid. Therefore if they do not marry they either enter a convent or live with a member of the family, and they do not at all mind being dependent on the charity of friends or relatives.

Though marriages are often arranged without the consent of the bride-elect, law or custom gives the Spanish woman the power of appealing to a magistrate if she wishes to escape from the union which is distasteful to her.

The magistrate may take her from her father's home until she is of age, while if she determines to marry a man of whom her parents disapprove she may also place herself under the protection of the law, and she cannot be deprived of her share of the family estate.

On reaching her majority she enjoys the same privileges as her brother with regard to property, and may inherit, will buy and sell; but when she marries she reverts to the position of a minor, and her husband has entire control of all her possessions, which he can squander without rendering any account to her, though she cannot spend a penny of her own money without his consent. He may desert her and her children without incurring any punishment or much public condemnation. A Spanish lady confers on her husband the title of nobility and any privilege connected therewith she may possess at the time of her marriage.

Public opinion is still so strongly opposed to their education that it will be a long time before they are fitted to take their share in their country's work, and many women are so ignorant that they can hardly read their missals or write their names. This is especially the case in small country towns. At Madrid schools have been opened for their instruction, and the classes have been conducted by excellent professors, but comparatively few women have availed themselves of the privileges.

Inter-Collegiate Meet.

The final score was: State college 63; Oregon Agricultural college 32; Whitman 18; University of Idaho 13, and University of Washington 5.

ENJOYABLE TIME

ON S. S. MAKURA

Commercial Men Attend Convention, Parade Streets and Attend Fair.

Yesterday morning the steamer Makura of the Canadian-Australian line, arrived here from Seattle with the three hundred excursionists who went over on Thursday. There were a number of Victorians who made the trip and these speak very highly of the accommodation and also of the reception they got in Seattle.

The real object of the excursion was to carry the delegates to the meeting of the grand council of the United Commercial Travelers of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. The vessel, which left here Thursday night, arrived in good time Saturday morning, and most of that day was spent at the convention. On Saturday morning a monster parade was formed, in which five bands and several thousand people took part. After marching through the principal streets of the city each member of the order was presented with a badge which threw open to them the doors of the fair and every sideshow for the rest of the day. Needless to say the Victorians who were present took full advantage of the occasion and enjoyed the trip to the utmost.

The Makura arrived here yesterday about 9 and after landing the Victoria passengers, proceeded to Vancouver.

AORANGI COMING.

Canadian-Australian Liner to Make One More Trip to This Port.

The Canadian-Australian liner Aorangi from Sydney to here cleared from Brisbane on Wednesday with 42 saloon passengers, 62 second-class and 90 steerage. Of these 51 are for B. C. points, 51 for overland points and 33 for San Francisco and Pacific American ports. The cargo consists of 415 tons of overland freight and 1,350 carcases of mutton. The Aorangi will make one more voyage after this and will then be replaced.

Steamer Leebro, under charter by the Marine and Fisheries department of the Dominion government, returned this morning from tending the light-houses and for alarms of the Straits of Georgia. She is now loading a cargo of supplies for the new fog alarm station at Carmanah.

LADY SMUGGLERS

CAUGHT IN ACT

Silks From Victoria Confiscated From Seattle Passengers on Princess Charlotte.

Female searchers in the customs seem to be a success, at least, the United States Government is finding them so. Ladies are said to be amongst the most inveterate smugglers, and hitherto their opportunities have been very great.

Yesterday two Seattle ladies who were suspected of carrying on a business in contraband were taken aside by the lady searcher at Seattle. They had just come from Victoria on the Princess Charlotte. Amongst their clothing was discovered several pieces of valuable silk goods which they were attempting to pass through the customs. The silk was confiscated by the officials.

C. P. R. SETTLED FOR DAMAGE TO COLUMBINE

J. McGowan Returned This Afternoon, After Making Arrangements.

J. McGowan of Vancouver, assistant superintendent of the engineering department of the B. C. coast service of the C. P. R. and of the Empress liners arrived this afternoon from Seattle. To a Times reporter he stated that he had made satisfactory arrangements with the United States Government for the damage done to the lighthouse tender Columbine by the Princess Charlotte. The Columbine was rammed by the Charlotte a few days ago at the dock in Seattle harbor but was not badly damaged. Mr. McGowan went over purposely to make arrangements for a settlement.

Steamer Leelanaw, recently chartered by the Alaska Commercial Co., has loaded 1,000 tons of sack coal at Nanaimo, a quantity of lumber at Beltingham, and is now taking on railway supplies at Seattle. The last mentioned will consist of flat-cars, rail locomotives and other construction material which will go to Guggenheim's new railway at Copper City, Alaska.

LOGGING CAMPS

ARE ALL ACTIVE

Queen City Carrying Many Passengers to and From Coast Centres.

Steamer Queen City is back in port once more from her regular weekly trip among the logging camps of British Columbia. She has been still carrying a large number of passengers, 89 going north and 75 on the south-bound trip. Among those arriving were Superintendent Bucknell of the Rivers Inlet hatchery, who has completed the season's work there, and Mr. Baynes, manager and part owner of the Strathcona cannery.

The arrivals on the steamer brought word that there is great activity at the logging camps all up the coast. Everyone of them is working up to full capacity.

The Queen City brought two carloads of barrels to add to the large stack which is piled on the C. P. R. wharf at Belleville street.

COMING FOR ORDERS. Steamer Elfr to Await Charter at Union Bay.

Steamer Elfr is to be up once more to await charter. Not very long ago she left Esquimalt after making a long wait. She is now on her way from San Pedro and will proceed to Comox where she will be until she receives further orders. Captain Marquessen is still in command of the vessel.

ACETYLENE GAS BUOYS PROPOSED FOR ALASKA

Chairman of United States Lighthouse Board Makes Suggestion.

(Times Leased Wire.) Seattle, June 14.—Acetylene gas light buoys between Seattle and Lynn Canal, suggested by Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, chairman of the United States Lighthouse board, as the best means of protecting navigators of the inner channels of the Alaskan coast. Dr. Pritchett arrived in Seattle from the east last evening and will make a trip to Alaska for the purpose of determining whether his scheme is practicable. If the plan may be carried out, twenty buoys ranging in cost from $1,500 to $3,000 will be placed along the Alaskan coast.

MONTEAGUE LEAVES. Steamer Carries Cargo From Provincial Ports to Orient.

Steamer Montague, of the C. P. R. Pacific line, passed out bound for the Orient with a rather small passenger list, but carrying a large amount of freight. In all, the vessel had 3,000 tons for Hongkong and other Chinese and Japanese ports. Included in this was $60,000 feet of lumber and two cars of machinery for Kobe and Shanghai. The rest of the cargo consisted largely of flour, canned salmon, condensed milk and other British Columbia products.

At this port the Montague picked up 19 Chinese, mostly from the steamer Georgia, and two Japanese.

NOME OPENS TO TRADE. Steamer Victoria From Seattle Has Reached that Port.

Nome, Alaska, June 14.—The first vessel of the fleet of large steamers to reach port from Seattle was the Victoria of the Alaska Steamship company, which reported by wireless at noon on Friday in the pack 35 miles south of here. The steamship cleared the ice during the afternoon and arrived at 3 o'clock Saturday morning.

The steamship St. Croix came in 8 hours after. The vessel was injured in her bow in forcing a way through the ice.

The four-masted American schooner J. H. Lunsman, of San Francisco, has been chartered to load lumber at the Hastings mill for Japan. She is a four-masted wooden schooner of 1,050 tons register, and was built in 1902 by C. G. White, of Everett, Wash.

SAILING DATES HAVE BEEN CHANGED

Steamers of Canadian Mexican Line to Continue Service for Present.

Some time ago it was reported that the Georgia and Lonsdale were to be withdrawn at once from the Mexican service, and were not at present to be replaced. The manager of the company, T. H. Worsnop, denies the truth of the rumor in a letter to the Vancouver News-Advertiser which runs as follows:

Dear Sir.—As it is evidently been maliciously reported that the Canadian-Mexican line were withdrawing their service, we beg to state that this is not a fact, as the steamers will continue to run as hitherto, but the sailing date is being altered from the 15th of the month to on or about the 15th of each month from Vancouver, in order to make connections at Salina Cruz with the steamers leaving Glasgow and Liverpool on the 22nd and 23rd of each month, also the steamers of the Elder-Dempster line, sailing from Montreal about the 12th of each month and the steamers from London, sailing about the 20th of each month. This will enable us to make close connections through our European cargo.

(CANADIAN - MEXICAN PACIFIC STEAMSHIP LINE.) T. H. WORSNUP, Manager.

H. C. Walrond, one of the directors of the company, has gone to England for the purpose of securing two vessels which at the end of the year will replace the two vessels now in use on that line.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 12th Meridian west. It is counted from 6 to 24 hours from midnight. The figures for height refer to high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. The level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the sounding on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

German ship Tarpenbek is the first of the grain carriers to arrive on Puget Sound. She brought coke from Hamburg to Santa Rosalia, and is now awaiting orders.

TRAFFIC ARRANGEMENTS

FROM PUGET SOUND

Big Crowds Arrived on Steamers Yesterday — New Steamer for Run.

Next Saturday the Princess Victoria is running on a special dollar rate from Seattle to this city, the passengers returning the same day on the Princess Charlotte, which for the occasion will be kept until 8 o'clock. This rate is being made in response to a request from the Country club, who are anxious to have as many people as possible in the city to attend the races.

Yesterday the travel on the steamers was very large. The Princess Victoria brought nearly 400 passengers from Seattle and a large crowd came over from Vancouver. The steamers of the International Steamship Company also did a good business.

The steamship men who were in the city from Seattle last week returned home without coming to any arrangement in connection with the running of another steamer to this city, but at noon to-day a dispatch was received from Seattle saying that arrangements were under way for the running of a big steamer between the two cities at cut rates. This will probably be the Victorian, mention of which was made a few days ago. The dispatch further says that capitalists both in Victoria and Seattle are interested in the venture.

LAKE COVERS SITE OF MONTANA TOWN

Nearly Every Building at Roosevelt Has Been Destroyed.

(Times Leased Wire.) Spokane, Wash., June 14.—A great body of water is rapidly forming on what is the site recently occupied by the town of Roosevelt, the work being made necessary by the slide of earth and rock which a few days ago destroyed nearly every building in Roosevelt. There are already 13 feet of water covering the flat where the town once stood. The only woman known to be living in one of the three or four half submerged houses is Mrs. Nash Wayland, from whom a letter has been received by a friend in Spokane.

DROWNED AT PORTLAND.

Portland, Ore., June 14.—Lionel Rathbone, a young man 29 years of age, was drowned by the upsetting Saturday of a canoe in which he and Edward Heppelwhite were paddling. The latter swam safely ashore, but Rathbone was seized with cramps, and went down before help could reach him.

BE A CHARMING WOMAN.

You never saw a beautiful woman who didn't have beautiful hair. The charms of a beautiful woman lie in her hair. Many women do not realize the attractions they possess because they do not give proper attention to the care of the hair.

The women of the "400" are famed for their beauty, not because their facial features are superior to those of other women, but because they know how to keep young by supplying vigor, lustre, and strength to the hair.

Up to a few years ago Parisian Sage could hardly be obtained in America. But now this delightful hair restorer can be had in every town in America. D. E. Campbell sells it in Victoria for 50 cents a bottle, and he guarantees it to grow beautiful, luxuriant hair; to turn dull, lifeless hair into lustrous hair; to stop falling hair; to stop itching of the scalp. Understand, D. E. Campbell will give you your money back if it fails.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET AT DUNCAN

Mrs. Macdonald Re-elected District Secretary for Cowichan.

(Special Correspondence.)

Duncan, June 13.—A special meeting of the King's Daughters was held in the Knights of Pythias hall yesterday, which was attended by the members of the provincial executive, Mrs. Hasell, Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Hardie, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Leitch, Mrs. Morley of Victoria, were among those present. Seven new members were received into the order and the consecration service was read by Mrs. Shaw, the provincial secretary.

Mrs. Shaw gave a report of the work done at the provincial convention recently held in Victoria. An address was then read by Mrs. Watt, in which she impressed the members present that the work of the order was of a religious nature and must necessarily be in close touch with religious objects more than charitable and philanthropic, which it, of course, included. All entertainments given by the order were educational and uplifting more than for the making of money. She advocated having the consecration service and the services for the opening of meetings combined and extended and formed into a ritual for use at King's Daughters' meetings, the object of which would be to remind members of the religious side of the work.

Mrs. Hasell spoke particularly to the new members, telling them of the help it would be in their lives to meet frequently in a united body with older women who would be willing to give help and sympathy in all difficulties, and that in a union of this kind women who were naturally shy about expressing the deeper feelings, gained confidence and were able to help others in need of sympathy.

Mrs. Macdonald was re-elected district secretary for Cowichan.

Mrs. Tealier entertained the members of the order at tea in a beautiful garden on Mirmichand lake.

NEW GRAND THEATRE.

Playlet Presented This Week Is an Entertaining One.

The leading act in the bill sent to the New Grand theatre this week by Sullivan and Constable is Frank Bacon and company in "An Easy Liar," which is being seen for the first time here commencing with to-day's performances.

"An Easy Liar" has won fame with the playlet on the northwest circuit and through the eastern states. He is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Beatie Stuart Bacon, and Miss Jane Jeffery, both of whom have parts allotted them in the small cast.

"An Easy Liar" has won merit all along the route and Bacon's droll humor has been much appreciated. The act is intensely amusing. It is full of humor and will make a big hit.

Supporting acts this week are the Ramsey sisters, showing in a musical act of quality, containing much mirth and comedy.

Gillihan and Murray in a laughable rag time turn are the real ragtime. Those who enjoy the black face men will find something extra special here to delight and amuse them.

"On the Bounding Wire," is a specialty to be introduced by the Krugers, which will provide the sensational feature and the Kisers (two), are coming in a musical novelty act.

Thomas J. Price will sing "When the Nightingales are Nesting, Sweet Irene," and the new moving pictures and the favorite Grand orchestra, with new selections complete, are the up-to-date week's attractions for the Grand.

A party from Providence, R. I., who arrived in town yesterday, includes Mr. and Mrs. Lillinghurst, Miss M. L. Lillinghurst, and Mrs. C. C. Andrews. They are touring the coast cities and will remain here for some time.

POPULAR VICTORIAN WEDDED ON SATURDAY

Mr. Carlson of Seattle and Miss Gonnason United in Marriage.

On Saturday afternoon a very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gonnason, Quadra street, when their second daughter, Miss Sigrid M. Gonnason, was united in marriage to Mr. Hugo Carlson of the State bank of Seattle. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Christopher Burnett.

The bride, who is one of Victoria's most popular young ladies, was given away by her father. She looked sweet and graceful in a rich white satin princess gown cut en train, trimmed with panels of silk embroidery on Brussels net, the yoke and sleeves being of the same dainty embroidery. The bridal veil and orange blossoms bore sweet association, having formerly being worn by a sister. She carried white roses and her ornaments were pearls and diamonds, the gift of the groom.

She was attended by Miss Maybelle Minto as maid of honor, who wore a dainty frock of pink silk mulls made empire and surplice style with hat yoke and sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. John Egardie, of Seattle.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Ellen Ohlson, a friend of the bride. The bridegroom's gift to the maid of honor was a brooch of pearls, while the groom's gift to the best man was a scarf pin.

The pretty drawing rooms were charmingly decorated in amilax and pink and white carnations with white ribbon. The dining room decorations were carried out in the same design. Only the relatives and most intimate friends of the bride were present at the wedding ceremony, after which a dainty supper was served.

In the evening a reception was held at the home from 5 to 10, at which a great many of the friends of the bride and groom were present. A number of friends of the groom from Seattle attended the reception. The following friends of the bride assisted at the reception: Mrs. R. E. Burns, Mrs. F. C. Dillabaugh, Miss Lillian Haggerty, Miss Ellen Ohlson, Miss Irene Berryman and Miss Lillian Nichols.

Many beautiful gifts were received, showing the esteem in which the young couple were held.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Carlson left by the Charming for Vancouver. They will proceed to Southern California, where the honeymoon will be spent and on their return will take up their residence on Capitol Hill, Seattle.

The bride's going away dress was a black and white check tailored suit trimmed with cut jet buttons and large black picture hat.

"THE MERRY WIDOW"

Widely Known Opera Is to Be Presented To-night at Victoria Theatre.

When the curtain is raised on Henry W. Savage's magnificent production of "The Merry Widow," the present musical sensation of Europe, at the Victoria theatre to-night, the playgoers of this city will have an opportunity to witness a light opera that makes a musical epoch in compositions of its class. Never in the history of music has a production caused such a furore throughout Europe and of the thousands returning from abroad, who saw the piece on the other side, not one can be found who does not enthusiastically exclaim that "The Merry Widow" is the "greatest ever." In Franz Lehar, the composer, another genius has been found who can tickle the fancy of the musical student and at the same time write music whose languorous melodies haunt the man who doesn't know the difference between a major chord and a pool of cotton.

Based on apt ornamenting a simple, clear, conservative libretto, the music is frank and spontaneous, full of vigor, melodies and "singable"—demanding vocal ability of no mean order, but neither the voice of the singer nor the ear of the hearer is ever outraged. Though apparently so simple that the melodies are easily memorized never once is it "cheap."

Above all, its reality and dramatic fidelity give it well deserved popularity. So essentially do the melodies fit the rhyme that music and libretto seem the work of one man. Above all, "organic union" is a distinguished feature of "The Merry Widow."

TIMELY RECIPES.

Stuffed and Roasted Spargiribs.—Trim off the rough ends, crack the ribs through the middle, rub with salt and pepper, fold over where cracked, stuff and sew up or wrap with bits of tape. Put in the roasting pan with two cups of water, baste frequently and turn once. They should be a rich even brown. For the dressing take three tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs, a finely chopped apple, half a teaspoonful of powdered sage, a little salt and pepper and two tablespoonfuls of minced beef suet.

Roast Ham.—Take young green ham weighing about five pounds and rub well with salt and sugar; let stand twenty-four hours and then again rub with the sugar and salt. Do this every other day for a week or ten days and then put in a large kettle of boiling water with a small carrot, one small onion, a good sized bay leaf, three cloves stuck in the onion, half a dozen pepper corns and a sprig of parsley. Simmer gently for an hour, then remove from the water, drain well and cover with a paste of oil or clarified chicken fat and flour, covering well to retain the juices. Place in a moderately hot oven and roast for two and a half hours.

Rolls Neck of Pork.—Bone the neck and lay over the inside a force meat of chopped sage, bread crumbs, salt, pepper and a pinch of allspice. Roll up as tightly as possible and roast slowly in moderate oven. Serve with apple sauce. This may be boiled, after letting it lie in salt and sugar for a week, and instead of the bread stuffing, fill with

WHEAT ROUTE WILL CUT INTO HILL TERRITORY

C. P. R. is Building Connecting Line Between Winnipeg and Duluth.

While in Montreal recently William Whyte, chief executive of the C. P. R. western line, gave the Herald an interview regarding a cut-off which will greatly shorten the eastern rail wheat route. The new line is being constructed from Thief River Falls to Duluth, connecting with the C. P. R. Soo line with the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic, the line which runs along the south shore of Lake Superior from Duluth to Sault Ste. Marie and is also, like the Soo and Old Chicago Great Western, controlled by the C. P. R. In fact its vice-president is W. R. Baker, assistant to the president and secretary of the C. P. R.

Some particulars regarding this important project have already appeared, but its full significance was only made apparent by Mr. Whyte when he showed how the line which in its relation to the C. P. R., the Soo and the Duluth road forms a gigantic cut-off which puts the company in possession of the shortest grain route from Winnipeg to the Atlantic, and the idea is to relieve the C. P. R. main line along the north shore of Lake Superior of the most difficult part of the C. P. R. to operate by reason of the terrible blizzards that sweep along that rockbound and desolate shore of the pressure arising from its rapidly developing traffic which has to be moved from the prairie capital to St. John, the company's winter port. A portion of this grain traffic will continue as now to be shipped eastwards by way of Fort William and the north shore of Lake Superior, but a big slice will be carried over the south shore from Winnipeg by way of Duluth, taking the C. P. R.'s main line again at Sudbury, where the Soo line rejoins the transcontinental road from which it first takes its leave at Moose Jaw. As the shortest route from the Western prairies to a Lake Superior port, it will naturally be an important carrier of lake freight in the summer months, when the steamers of the company are busy with the commerce which can be carried more economically by water than by rail.

The new line is important in two other respects. It will form, when completed, the shortest and most direct line from Winnipeg to Duluth, and it will serve an important grain belt which is right in the Hill territory, but is inadequately provided with railway facilities.

NEWARK MAN'S COLLAPSE

Caused by Dizziness, Billousness and Pains in the Back.

DROPPED IN THE STREET.

Warm weather and acute indigestion were the chief cause of a physical collapse that caused the death of a man who had been the entrance of the Pennsylvania Railroad depot last Thursday. A policeman lifted him into a cab and he was hurried to his home. In an interview next day Mr. Donaghy stated: "I was practically unconscious when I arrived home. I knew I was in bad shape, because for weeks I had been fighting against pains in my back as severe as if I had been shot at. Indigestion and billousness were the cause of my collapse, and no doubt had been keeping up the headache and dizziness from which I suffered. Fortunately, my wife knew just what I needed. She gave me three of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut and put me to bed. In the morning I was as fresh as a daisy, my system was cleared of its load of poisonous waste and I felt like a new man. From now on, in order to keep my system properly regulated, I will use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. I know many who do so and they never have a day's illness."

Why not be healthy, hearty and well? You owe it to yourself, to your family, to your friends. You cannot work properly, or enjoy life, or be happy yourself, if you are tormented by indigestion, and all the nagging pains and unpleasantness which accompany it. If you are weakened by anaemia—if your blood is being poisoned and your system upset by constipation.

If you are suffering from any of these derangements of the system—either temporary or chronic—you should go at once to the nearest chemist and ask him for a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. This perfect tonic-laxative will cure your indigestion; purify and enrich your blood; banish constipation by safe and natural means; improve your appetite; quiet your nerves, and help you to sleep soundly. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will give you strength and vigor. They will help you to work better, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or The Catarhazone Company, Kingston, Ont.

SIGNALMAN'S ORDEAL

Powerless to Aid, Watches Child Walk in Front of an Express.

A nerve-wrecking experience befell a signalman named Lines at Soham Station, Eng., on the Great Eastern railway, recently.

He had just signalled "Line clear" for the Ipswich express, when, glancing towards the level line along which the express would pass in a few moments, he saw a little four-year-old girl named Doris Pryke, the daughter of the village butcher, crossing the line.

It was too late for him to stop the express, he could not reach the child in time to save her, and he realized that if he should to her she would be certain to stand still and look in his direction.

Slowly the little girl entered the four-foot way, unconscious of the approaching train. The engine was within 100 yards of her when she put one leg over the outer rail. She raised the other leg, and came within inches of safety. Then the train flashed past, and Lines covered his face with his hands to shut out the sight.

When he rushed to the spot he found the little one lying by the side of the line, unconscious, but alive. The front wheel guard had caught her uplifted leg, and she had been hurled a dozen yards, alighting on a mound of refuse. She suffered a few bruises and scratches, but otherwise was unhurt.

DIAMOND WIZARD'S GREAT "SECRET"

Lemaine Tells Gem Formula—Sugar, Iron and Mercury.

Scepticism and ironical amusement prevailed in the Correctional House, Paris when Henri Lemaine, the "Diamond Wizard," at the commencement of his trial revealed what he was pleased to call his "secret formula" for making gems, says Lloyd's Weekly News.

Lemaine, it will be remembered, was sentenced by default on February 1st last to ten years' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of 120, for fraudulently obtaining over 264,000 francs from Sir Julius Wertheim and others by representing that he had discovered a method of making diamonds. The present proceedings are the outcome of the objections raised to this sentence by the accused after his arrest on his return to France. Sir Julius Wertheim and Mr. Feidenheimer were in court.

Dressed in a very fashionable morning coat and wearing light gloves, the prisoner appeared in perfect health. He had sacrificed his luxuriant black beard and wore only a moustache. He brought a heap of documents into court, and they were placed on the table in front of him. He was accompanied by his advocate, Mr. Lamor.

Lemaine announced that he came to Paris at the age of 19, and was a civil engineer by profession. Some searching questions, however, soon showed that his chief experience as engineer had consisted in erecting wooden hoardings for a building company for whom he had worked. Then it was elicited that in the early part of his career he had been sentenced by the Paris court to four years' imprisonment for forgery and the use of forged documents.

After admitting these facts Lemaine shrugged his shoulders, and throwing up his hands exclaimed dramatically, "That was my Calvary! Every inventor has a Calvary to climb, and I have climbed mine, but, thank heaven, I have succeeded in my invention, as I shall be able to show the court!"

In 1889 he discovered that his "natural" invention was to be an inventor, and devoted his time to the manufacture of artificial diamonds. He induced various persons to lend him some capital, among them an English lady named Clarke, who gave him £80. With this aid, having discovered the secret of making them, he went on to discover the secret of making artificial diamonds.

As the audience and the judge smiled Lemaine, in the face, shouted: "But I tell you I have found it, and I shall prove it to you." Then he related how he went to London, was introduced to Sir Julius Wertheim, whom he succeeded in convincing that he could manufacture diamonds.

"What did you give Sir Julius for the large sums he paid you?" asked the judge.

"I gave him value for his money," replied Lemaine, amid laughter. "As to the experiments which had been made in the presence of Sir Julius, the prisoner evaded every awkward question by saying that he 'would reveal his process later on.' With regard to an experiment made in 1906 in the presence of Mr. Oates, representing the De Beers Company, Lemaine said: 'The fifty-two diamonds taken from the crucibles were my work, although that may appear to be rather astounding.' He explained that a second experiment had failed because electric current of the proper power was not available.

"Do you know," interposed the judge, "that during the trial experiment, Sir Julius, unknown to you, slipped a diamond into the crucible, and that the diamond was afterwards found?" "That is absolutely untrue," was the answer.

Lemaine admitted that the famous formula deposited with the Union of Journalists and Editors in London was worthless from the scientific point of view, but he had purposely put it in the terms he had so that his secret might not be revealed.

"Where are your diamonds?" asked the judge, and the accused replied that he would tell everything if the court would grant him a five minutes' adjournment. The request was granted, and on the resumption Lemaine remarked that his explanations would be of a "very scientific character." He continued:

"I am not joking, but am going to sound the death-knell of the diamond. Holding up a plan to explain the construction of my furnace, he went on: 'This apparatus does not include a crucible. The composition of the product is simple. Into my furnace you put some iron filings, sugar carbons and mercury, and in this way the constituent elements of the diamond are combined.'

"Mercury!" shouted Lemaine. "That is my secret which I wanted to keep. It is mercury which produces in amalgamation the high internal pressure similar to the pressure that was only produced in the mine."

Then Lemaine went on to say that he took precautions when doing the experiment. In front of Sir Julius Wertheim, in order that he should not discover the use of mercury. "To-morrow inventors will get hold of my process. They will all pretend to have discovered it. I am sorry I have been obliged to reveal it!"

The case was adjourned.

THE PERIL TO PEACE AS SEEN IN LONDON

Sober Journal Sees Grave Menace in the Attitude of Germany.

We have never joined in with the panic-mongers, and have done our best to ridicule their foolish screams; but to sit down and quietly think out the European situation at the present time is well worth while, says London Opinion.

There need be no jubilation over what is fatuously called the settlement of the Serbian problem. Nothing whatever has been settled, and if a minor danger has been averted it is only because a greater danger has taken its place.

It is not Serbia that we have to consider at all, but rather the great powers that have ranged themselves for or against the action of Austria. When the announcement came from Vienna that Bosnia and Herzegovina had been annexed there were protests from Russia, England and France. Russia, as the traditional protector of the Slav States, not only opposed the annexation, but she sustained the resistance of Serbia in every possible way while joining England and France in a united demand for a conference. But a conference did not accord with Austrian ideas, nor, indeed, any other procedure that should fall to recognize the annexation as an accomplished fact. Pursuing an independent course, she pressing Serbia to submit and to disarm, massing her own troops upon the frontier as a threat of the coercive measures that would follow resistance.

Under ordinary circumstances such action upon the part of Austria would have spurred Russia to instant retaliation, but Russia was not in a position to undertake war. Perhaps Austria alone would not have been deemed an insurmountable obstacle, but Russia was given clearly to understand it was said by means of an underground letter from Emperor William that she must reckon also with Germany, and that a continued support of Serbia would mean a formidable and hostile coalition against her. But the intimidation came in a still more practical form. Austria had withdrawn large bodies of her troops from the Russian frontier for a possible use in Serbia, and the place of these troops was at once taken by German soldiers. It is even said that the frontier villages in Austria were notified that the German officers were regarded as Austrian and treated accordingly, and Russia was therefore under a menace of the most direct kind. Weakened by her war with Japan, she was in no condition to pit herself against the combined forces of Germany and Austria, and she therefore swallowed her pride and counselled Serbia to submit. But the Muscovite does not forget a rebuff nor forgive it, nor does he repudiate his policy.

The rebuff to England and France was of a secondary kind, and is perhaps eclipsed by the larger problem of Germany's assumption of dictatorship in European politics. The annexation of the provinces was in defiance of the Berlin treaty, and against the wish of the other signatories. Germany has placed herself in the position of sanctioning that defiance, and has made herself the arbiter of treaty observances throughout the continent, and this at a singularly inopportune time in view of the prevailing tension.

If there is to be an alliance between Germany and Austria, an alliance riding rough-shod over the rights of Europe, contentions of treaty rights in the pursuit of national ambitions, it would seem that the peace of the continent has entered upon a stage more dangerous than any that have preceded it.

In this connection some reports of grave significance have, says that ably conducted paper, the Argonaut of San Francisco, emanated. Ordinarily speaking, the great commercial interests of the world are the undeviating friends of peace, inasmuch as the financial brunt of war falls primarily upon them. But it is said that the English business houses are satisfied that Germany intends to fight as soon as she is ready, trusting for her reimbursement to a colossal war indemnity, and that they are urging immediate hostilities as the lesser of two evils. The cost of defence is increasing at such an alarming rate that war itself would be less ruinous, and especially now while England still maintains her immense naval superiority.

The outcome at the present time would be comparatively certain, but would be so certain in a few years' time, when the German shipbuilding programme is already laid down has been completed? Even if England can maintain her two-power naval standard, which is more than doubtful, would it not be a matter of simple economy to precipitate the issue rather than to postpone it? It is, of course, a Machiavellian counsel, but it is one that Europe, and especially Germany herself, can well understand. It is precisely what Bismarck would have done, and exactly parallel to what he did actually do.

Perhaps the ethics of statecraft have somewhat changed since his day, and are now more in tune with the ideas of an English prime minister who when told that war must come sooner or later replied: "Then, let it be later." England seems just now to contain sections who are in a condition of hysteria, and it is hard to discriminate between "nerves" and the serious cause for apprehension. If the commercial bodies are really in favor of an early war, they are taking a mighty responsibility upon themselves, and one that seems to be in ill accord with commercial traditions.

LOGGER KILLED.

Chehalis, Wash., June 14.—While going into camp on a log at quitting time on Saturday evening, John Mead, a logger in Page Sound camp, at Lebam, was instantly killed. Mead was riding on one log when another swung accidentally and struck him. He died almost instantly. He was married and leaves a widow. He was about 30 years old.

An average orange tree produces about 30,000 oranges, and a lemon tree, 5,000 lemons.

PROBLEM OF EGYPT.

Progress of Home Rule Hindered by Agitators.

"Taking a general view of the year's work, the most striking feature has been the progress made in the direction of giving satisfaction to the reasonable aspirations of the Egyptian people. It must be patent to all that the Egyptian element is exercising a more considerable and healthy influence in administrative and legislative matters, and that, during the last twelve months, changes have been introduced which are an outward and visible sign of the intention of the government to associate the population, so far as it is practicable, with the conduct of public affairs."

These words, Sir Edouard Gorst in his report on Egypt and the Sudan in 1908, summarize the main steps taken during the past year in this direction as follows, at the same time paying a high tribute to the loyalty of the Anglo-Egyptian official:

1. The preparation of a practical measure intended to associate the people with their own local affairs.
2. Selection, on the retirement of Moustapha Pasha Pehmy, as members of the new ministry, of men whose attainments and administrative experience gave ample guarantees as to the manner in which their important functions would be carried out.

3. The attempt to encourage the legislative council to perform more efficiently its functions of expressing the views of the people on the legislative proposals put before it.
4. Increase in the number of posts of responsibility in which Europeans have been replaced by Egyptians.

5. Continued development of the educational system on national lines, in accordance with the desire frequently expressed by the legislative council and general assembly.

There is, however, a disappointment as to the attitude of the majority of the non-official educated classes of Egyptians. It is stated that they have never during recent years exhibited a more critical and prejudicial spirit. The existence of this feeling among those who are not extreme members of the Nationalist party, in Sir Edouard Gorst's opinion, may be accounted for in three ways:

1. The wave of enthusiasm for parliamentary institutions, which has

3. A growing desire for notoriety by posing as a patriot.

As to the future, there appears to be no remedy for this state of affairs, but patience. The only effect of this kind of thing is to "put back the clock," and to postpone the bestowal of a further instalment of autonomy.

ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA EVENING TIMES

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW STREET, VICTORIA, B. C.

Plant Under Course of Erection at Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Assets.

The company have acquired 55,669 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power.

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000-inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes, 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year around.

Capacity of Plant.

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week. We are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture.

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $30.00 per ton. At present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $35.00 per ton, the freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets.

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets.

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over 210,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient.

A freight rate of from $2.50 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, on wood pulp and paper at a rate of $2.00 to $3.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 2,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we not only are able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia.

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood: one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four-foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work.

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Chas. B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than 50 of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

THE HIDDEN TREASURE

BY JOHN HASLETTE

Stretching away from the verge of the forest lay the pampas, shimmering and sparkling in a heat mirage, not a grass stirring in the breathless sunlight, inert and monotonously even, a motionless sea of yellow-herbage.

In the shade of the verandah of his estancia on the rim of the forest, sat Chico Llanos, smoking innumerable cigars and turning over many schemes in his dark mind.

So far, the ventures which he had entered upon with his companion in knavery, Ludwig Heller, had proved indubitably successful. A rich foreigner, hot upon materials for a book, had paid toll for his temerity; some horses imported from England by a neighboring ranchman had been attracted—convenient euphemism—to the estancia and later brought them a store of gold pieces; even the bank at the distant town of San Roca had opened its treasures to the rapacious pair.

One would have thought that Chico could find therein much matter for self-congratulation, but it was not the recollection of past triumphs that agitated his mind as he sat comfortably in the shade, sipping his wine and staring thoughtfully into the glaring heat mist beyond. He had begun to scent a grievance in the attitude of his fellow knave. He found him too aggressive and obstinate by nature, too self-seeking when schemes for mutual advancement were on the tapis, with an unhappy anxiety to support a weak argument by a strong hand. It was the one unfortunate trait in Heller's character, or so Chico told himself, the single blot upon a nature admirably adapted for knavery. He had borne with it for a considerable time, but now the moment had arrived when merely passive resistance became more foolish than politics.

The long-continued controversy on meum and tuum over the spoils of the battle of wits had come to a head on the previous evening, culminated, as it were, in a controversial impasse which made further combination impossible and unpleasant. It came about in this way: On the previous morning Ludwig Heller had paid a visit to Asuncion, and, attracted by the sounds of music proceeding from a Catholic church there, he strolled within, and for a time gave himself up to full enjoyment of the melodious service, which was, he assured himself, very excellently conducted. The building held no more attentive listeners; he was passionately fond of music, and sat there at ease in mind, body, and estate, until the celebration of the Holy Eucharist began, and the feast of hearing gave place to a gorgeous feast of sight. To such a confirmed connoisseur in jewels the elaborate gold plate upon the altar was disturbing enough, but, in particular, the sight of the rich jeweled chalice straightened him in his seat with an inward gasp of surprised delight. Here was a fortune to be made, the material which would enable him to spend the remainder of his days in comfortable idleness.

He rose when the service was concluded, and after making some enquiries in the town, returned at evening to the estancia, where Chico waited in ill-concealed impatience for his return.

Then he laid in detail before him the plan which he had formed for converting the ceremonial plate to his own use. He appraised its value in pesos, spoke in well-justified if enthusiastic terms of the beauty of the chalice, its elaborate design, and the comparative facility with which the jewels that studded it could be removed from their settings.

"You say," he said, "it is a natural thing? He said, glancingly, to Chico, "Añhi du lieber Himmel! What diamonds! What weight of gold!"

Yes, Chico had seen the chalice, even admired it, but to steal the mass vessels! "What, that would be sacrilege!" he whispered against.

"And what of that?" Ludwig remarked contemptuously. "Will the diamonds fetch a smaller price on that account?"

Chico was at pains to explain that he referred to the sin, not the difficulty. "The price of one's soul," Ludwig concluded, provoking his companion to coarse laughter at his scruples.

For a time Chico continued to question with a striking appearance of virtue, then they had quarrelled, almost fought, but finally patched up a peace, on the condition that Ludwig Heller should himself attempt to steal the mass vessels, while Chico was to store them at his estancia until such time as they could melt the gold plate and remove the jewels from the chalice.

And now Chico sat on the shady verandah, smoking steadily, and patiently evolving a plan for the removal of his confederate, one which should be subtle, but effective, easy of accomplishment, yet drastic and final.

He reviewed many forms of homicide, but passed over most because of their possible failure. The plan which he would adopt must be sure, for a possible hitch in the arrangements meant almost certain death at the hands of his intended victim. Heller was away at the moment, reconnoitring about a neighboring estancia at present tenanted by an Englishman who had aroused the anger of both knaves by his attentions to the daughter of a Spanish ranchero who lived near. The girl in question was of uncommon beauty, and both Chico and Ludwig had marked her for their own—when sufficient booty had been acquired to enable them to quit their present calling—had quarrelled about her in their cups, and vowed sudden death to any other who should be unwise enough to cast upon her the eye of desire.

Chico came at last to a decision; he smiled softly, rose, and flinging his cigarillo aside, turned into the house.

Reappearing presently, he placed on the verandah a tin container and iron hoe which he carried, and sprinkling himself with holy water from a receptacle that hung on the wall, went in search of his horse.

He led it round ready saddled a little later, and gathering up the heavy cantar and the hoe, mounted quickly and rode off along the verge of the forest.

He returned in two hours, without any burden, and made the circuit of the estancia without dismounting, humming a gay air the while. Finally he rode round to the corral, and after some minutes came out again upon the verandah, where he sat down and lighted a cigarillo, to wait for Heller's return.

It was not long before the latter came in sight, and approaching the estancia at a swinging gallop, hailed Chico:

"Schr heils, Chico, hot as foused devils. But you are wise, you take your alea."

"Sì, Ludwig, the shade is pleasant. For me, I have not stirred since you went."

"So? You are wise?" Heller turned away, and led his horse to the corral at the rear of the estancia, and Chico waited patiently on the verandah until he presently reappeared, lighted a manila cheroot, and, slinging himself down on a hammock, began to speak:

"I hav' been to Juarez' rancho," he said, excitedly, "and there—naturich—was the Englishman, Henderson with Nina, while that old fool, her father, watched them smiling. Head of an ass! He greeted me with the most unwillingness."

Chico started angrily. "Is it so?" he cried quickly. "Then the Senor Ingles must die. Think you, Ludwig, I shall permit him to take from me Nina, the beautiful, the soft-eyed, shall it be that the muchacha will love one of his nation? Chramba. If I thought it possible!"

"You are both fools," Ludwig snarled savagely. "Yours or his she is not, but mine."

Chico laid a menacing hand on his knife. "Yours," he sneered.

"We shall see," Ludwig said sullenly.

The mention of Nina Juarez, the subject of frequent quarrels between them, stirred Chico again to thoughts of revenge.

"Let it be then for to-day," he said, forcing a smile. "I have something of the greatest importance to tell you."

"Of what, Chico?"

"Of the plate—the gold and jewelled chalice," the other replied quickly. "It has been stolen from the church—taken away before we had time to secure it."

Ludwig started up with a terrible oath, and, glaring at the speaker, brought his hands sharply together.

"Who has done it?" he cried harshly. "Tell me who he is, and he shall not live to enjoy his booty."

"He was here but an hour ago," Chico replied calmly.

"And you let him go—alive?" Ludwig asked threateningly.

"Truly, I did. He was pursued and stayed but a moment to drink a cup of mate, and to smoke a cigarillo. I knew him slightly, for once we worked together."

"And the chalice—has he taken it away?"

"Can one accuse me of such stupidity?" said Chico, adding, "No, he buried his treasure beneath a tree not far from here, telling me he would return for it soon. He carried not only the church plate, but other jewels which he had obtained—rings, a bag of gold reals, and a necklace—Santa Madre!—of pearls, three ells in length, and clasped with two diamonds which Golconda could not equal."

Ludwig drew a deep breath of relief, his eyes sparkling at the very recital. He looked the embodiment of cruel greed as he leant forward, every muscle in his face twitching, while Chico watching him closely, saw that his bait had been taken.

"I forgot also two emeralds that glittered like the back of a lizard in the sun," he added.

"We will go this instant," cried Ludwig, then a sudden shade crossing his face: "Donnerwetter! Suppose the knave has come back and taken them with him?"

Beads of perspiration broke out on his forehead at the bare thought, but Chico hastened to reassure him.

"Impossible, Ludwig. He feared the pursuit, and was gone like an emu before the hunters."

His companion sprang up and began to pace hurriedly up and down the verandah, muttering guttural exclamations of delight and impatience, and only pausing from time to time to swear at his imperturbable partner, who rolled a fresh cigarillo, and lighted it slowly to spur his eagerness with a pretence of delay.

He protested pleasantly that the sun was still too hot for exertion, and for some little while listened unmoved to Ludwig's reproaches until at last he rose, stretched his arms, yawned tolerantly and professed readiness to set out.

"Let us go, then, and since you are fatigued I shall fetch the horses. Figure to it that I sent the peon to Asuncion to-day."

He turned away to the corral as he spoke, reappearing presently with two horses ready saddled.

"Where do we go?" Ludwig asked eagerly.

"Along the verge of the forest. The treasure lies buried beneath a large tree some two leagues from here."

They mounted at once and rode off. Three hours of day still remained, but the sun had lost something of its heat, and they suffered little discomfort from that cause. The German rode along silently, hardly looking at his companion, who gazed straight ahead, occasionally emitting a musical chuckle which Ludwig misinterpreted as a sign of the satisfaction which he felt at the prospect of such a great, yet easily acquired treasure.

They had ridden for nearly an hour, and Heller began to exhibit signs of growing and ill-suppressed impatience, when Chico suddenly drew up his horse and looked about him like one awakened from a dream.

"We are past the place," he cried.

"It was told me that the treasure lay on the near side of the big clearing."

"Fool not to speak before, then," growled his companion. "I do not know where it is. We have wasted who knows how long."

"Pocencia, Ludwig," Chico replied, smiling mockingly. "When once you see the treasure you will not mark the flight of time. Think you the eagle considers her wings when there is prey to be had?"

"Lead on, then," said the other impatiently.

They turned and galloped back along the track by which they had come, but this time Chico scanned the edge of the forest narrowly, and presently drew up sharply with a cry of joy.

"Here are the five trees of which I was told," he cried triumphantly, and pointed ahead, as he leant forward in his high-peaked saddle, to five tall, liana hung trees that stood out a little isolated from the densely massed forest behind.

"We have passed them already," Ludwig objected.

"Sì, Ludwig, it is so, but I did not notice them. However, we have still more than an hour of daylight."

Ludwig made no reply, but spurring his horse to a gallop, darted off towards the spot, while Chico, who followed more slowly, felt that his plan had succeeded beyond his best expectations. His trap, dexterously set, needed no further delay to enhance his companion's desperate eagerness.

A flock of scarlet macaws rose from the trees as they approached and fled shrieking, vivid spots of color against the green foliage that flanked over-head.

They drew rein, and dismounting, tethered their horses.

"It is here that the treasure is buried," Chico said slowly, "at the base of the central tree."

A sudden wave of suspicious distrust came over the German.

"Why should the man have told you where it lay?" he said quickly. "There should be freshly-turned earth, but I see it not. For me, I do not believe."

"So it is," Chico interrupted, and moving forward to reconnoitre his eyes fell upon the handle of the hoe, which he had brought out that afternoon, and carelessly left, only half hidden in a clump of high grass. He picked it up quickly and looked at Ludwig. The latter was scanning the ground about the central tree, and passing partly round it gave a cry of surprised delight.

"It is here. See the earth newly dug."

He pointed downwards as he spoke, and, indeed, as he indicated, the dry earth showed signs of having been recently disturbed, and stamped down again closely. On its surface was the track of a foot, and just within it a gold coin that glittered dully in the sunlight.

Ludwig's excitement rose to fever heat, he strode up and down muttering to himself, and finally turned to Chico, saying:

"A hoe which I found," Chico said, showing it.

"Brava! You have sharp eyes."

Chico drew greedily at his cigarillo until the ash glowed, touched the twig-like thing quickly with the burning end, and rose from the ground slowly. There was a sharp flax, and he turned to Ludwig with a satisfied smile.

"You work diligently," he said, "but meanwhile, I shall go out a little into the pampas to mark that no one approaches. Riches, it is known, attract men as the carrion attracts the vulture."

"Good!" said Ludwig, still digging, and Chico turned and walked out across the pampas. When he had covered some two hundred paces, he paused, smiling, and stood like a statue, regarding the distant bent figure of his partner with an expression in which joy and impatience were strangely mingled. He seemed to be watching for some quickly coming event—an event both satisfactory and inevitable.

The moments passed, his smile became more strained, he leant slightly forward in an attitude of rigid attention.

Ludwig's figure moved regularly as he dug, before the heavy green background of the forest, unconscious of the drama in which he was a protagonist. Then, suddenly, a livid flash shot up about him towards the rapidly darkening sky, a perpendicular cloud of smoke rose into the air, and a sudden roar boomed out upon the pampas and reverberated among the trees. One swayed and fell crashing to the ground, then the smoke floated away in light wreaths, and Chico moved quickly forward, and, standing a few moments later beneath the trees, looked about him with a cruel smile on his thin lips.

His quick glance fell at length, upon an inert prostrate figure that lay crushed and distorted beneath the fallen tree, the poncho which covered it torn and ragged, the agonized, staring face turning up a sightless gaze upon the sky. Beside it, the ground had been upheaved by the explosion, and in the hole it had made lay the hoe, and a gold coin that glittered dully.

Chico picked up the coin, glanced contemptuously at the dead man, and went over to the horses which stood near, dazed by the crash, sweating and shivering with fear. He took off their hobbles, mounted one, and grasped the reins of the other. He rode forward a few yards, turned sharply, and glanced over his shoulder.

"Buena noche, Senor, good-night," he cried, mockingly, and setting spurs to his horse, galloped out upon the pampas.

A COMPREHENSIVE SERVICE

All the News of Canada, of the Coast, of the World.

Intelligence Dragnet Gathers All the Important Happenings for this Paper.
The Different Sources From Which The Times Obtains Its Splendid News Service Are as Follows :

EUROPEAN SERVICE

THE EUROPEAN MANAGER of the United Press is Mr. Chas. Stewart, one of the best known of news gatherers in the world. While he is located at London, he keeps an alert eye on all European points, and he has that swift intuition, that "nose for news," which means "scoops."

Early in the spring the president of the United Press received the following dispatch from Stewart: "Gone to Constantinople." No Explanation was given, but subsequent events showed that Stewart had anticipated the cataclysm there, had hurried to the scene, organized his news syndicate, with reporters all through the affected districts, and had installed an experienced Turkish newspaper man as staff correspondent. Stewart was back in London before the crash came, but so perfect was his organization and so accurately had he anticipated the movement of events there that the United Press hopelessly distanced all competitors, and gave its papers the news of the deposition of the Sultan, Abdul Hamid, and the name of his successor while papers served by more ancient systems were telling of the retention of Abdul as a constitutional sovereign.

This is but a sample of the prompt and efficient way in which the news of the Old World is handled

CANADIAN EVENTS

Domlnlon News, Covered by Special Correspondents of "The Times"

CANADA IS RAPIDLY coming into its own, not only as to natural wealth and growth but as a source of important happenings. To specially provide for this the Times has its own representatives in Ottawa and Winnipeg, who compile for this paper the news of the east and the Canadian middle west, respectively. Many events in these districts which in a general way are of minor importance are of special interest to residents of Victoria because of the number of easterners and plains people who have settled on Vancouver Island. This service is being steadily expanded and assures Times readers of the news, not only of the world at large, but the particular news of their own land.

In this way it rounds out the splendid service which the Times is giving its readers.

COAST AND AMERICAN NEWS

THE LEASED WIRE which runs into the Times office has its northern extremity in Vancouver, and its southern terminus in San Diego. It runs northward from the latter point through the cities of San Francisco, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle and Bellingham. By this means, and owing to the fact that every paper taking the United Press service is a co-operative member of the organization and furnishes to the association the news of its own district, an almost instant report on all important news on the coast is obtained without having to filter out by the circuitous and slow methods which prevail unless up-to-date is used.

Eastward from San Francisco and Portland the other leased wires of the United Press connect the coast line with all the important eastern and middle west centres and by cable with the European office in London. A perfect news dragnet is spread in which not only ALL the news is obtained, but its delivery while it is still NEWS is assured.

A GREAT COAST TELEGRAPH SERVICE

FROM CALIFORNIA TO ALASKA

People like to hear, first, about themselves, and then about their sisters, their cousins and their aunts. This is the basic principle of news. A big gooseberry in your neighbor's garden is of more importance as a news item than a new volcano in Japan.

—Sir Edwin Arnold.

FROM CALIFORNIA TO ALASKA

If Sir Edwin Arnold was right, the news of the Coast, from California to Alaska, is of more vital interest to the people of Vancouver Island than important happenings in Georgia or in New Jersey.

The Times' leased wire, next to its efficiency and promptness in handling world events, is principally noteworthy for its ample Coast service. In this it has no peer. Thousands of words daily are delivered to this paper relating to Coast happenings.

Coast residents, therefore, can get the news of the Coast satisfactorily only by reading The Times.

This full and up-to-date compendium of news appears every night in The Times. It costs the reader no more than a paper with a weak service.

Manager Tait, of the International,

FIFTH REGIMENT IS IN CAMP

LOCAL CORPS HAS GONE UNDER CANVAS

Marched in Yesterday Well Up in Strength—Drill Begins To-night.

The Fifth Regiment, C. G. A., went into camp yesterday forenoon, presenting a splendid appearance as they marched through the streets from the drill hall to take up their quarters under canvas at Macaulay Point and in the dry dock yard. The regiment has gone in practically up to strength about 275 officers and men marching in under the command of Lieut. Eric Royce. The command of Major Currie, Col. Hall, No. 1 company, under the command of Major Currie, have their quarters in the dry dock yard. They will take their training as usual upon the guns at Esquimalt. Last year No. 1 occupied the naval yard, going into barracks there. But this year the men of the Shearwater are occupying the quarters, necessitating the going into camp of the local militia corps.

Companies No. 2 and 3 are as usual camped on that delightful spot at Macaulay Point, where for years past it has been the custom to spend the two weeks during training on the forts. The members of the regiment this year pitched their own tents upon marching in. It has been the custom for years past to have the tents pitched by men from Work Point Barracks so that all that was necessary was to march in and occupy the quarters. This year this was altered and the Fifth had all the work to do just as would be required on actual service.

The officers and men manifest a great interest this year. An instance of this is afforded in the fact that Capt. Roberts, a corps reserve man, marched in with the regiment and intends to remain in camp with them during the two weeks. Capt. Langley, also on the reserve list, may also spend the two weeks with the officers in camp. After going into camp yesterday the regiment made themselves comfortable, after which general leave was granted and a number of the members came back to the city. In many instances, however, the time was spent by the members in camp.

This evening the work will begin in earnest. At Fort Macaulay, No. 3 company will take its turn on the big guns, commencing at 8:45. In order to get the most out of the training, both No. 2 and No. 3 companies will have a turn on the guns each evening. While No. 3 is in the fort, No. 2 will have dinner and take infantry drill on the plains. Later, No. 2 will replace No. 3 in the fort, and the latter company will have dinner and take infantry drill.

The officers of the Fifth are anxious to have no unbecoming acts on the part of members of the corps. They are requesting that citizens who notice any misbehavior on the part of members of the regiment while in uniform should report to the headquarters of the regiment.

The orders for to-morrow are as follows: Orderly officer for June 15th, Lieut. H. H. Woolson; next for duty, Lieut. P. T. Stern. Tents will be inspected each morning as heretofore, when note will be taken of dirty rifles and untidy equipment. Recruits will parade at 7:15 p. m. on der Paymaster-Sergt. C. W. Hollier until further orders. Practice with one-inch ammunition will commence to-morrow (Tuesday) evening.

The company going first into Fort Macaulay each evening will furnish the range party, consisting of an officer or senior N.C.O., two gunners and signaller. No. 2 company will furnish the above on Tuesday and Thursday. No. 3 company on Wednesday and Friday, who will report at the ordnance wharf, Esquimalt, at 6 p.m.

No. 1 company will make their own arrangements for furnishing a similar range party, to report at the same place and time.

Men leaving camp in uniform must wear belts (and no side arms), and have a smart appearance. The police will turn back any man improperly dressed. Any complaints of men infringing this order, or misbehaving themselves away from camp, will be severely dealt with.

That part of regimental order No. 13, May, 1909, par. 5, referring to No. 154, Sergt. W. H. Keatings, is hereby cancelled. Sergt. Keatings will now assume No. 154.

Also regimental order No. 23, June, 1909, par. 5, referring to No. 262, Trump. A. Clark is hereby cancelled.

WILL FILL VACANCIES ON THE PARKS BOARD

That is What Council is Likely to Do for Balance of Year.

It is more than likely that when the city council takes up the matter of the parks board to-night it will decide to fill the vacancies for the remainder of the year, and later on repeal the existing parks by-law, substituting a committee of council to look after the parks and boulevards.

The opinion of the city solicitor, it is understood, is that it might create complications if the change was to be made in the middle of the year, when the appropriations have been made, and the work under these has been partially done.

Four citizens will be appointed, if the council decides to take the course mentioned, to replace John Arbuthnot, F. B. Pemberton, G. E. Wilkerson and John Nelson, who all resigned from the board as a protest against what they considered the improper interference of the council in their management of the affairs of the parks, especially in matters of finance.

LOCAL FIRM GOT CONTRACT.

Westholme Lumber Co. Will Build Hospital for Insane at Westminster.

The contract has been let for the building of the new provincial hospital for the insane at New Westminster, the successful tenderers being the Westholme Lumber Company, of this city, at the head of which is Sol. Cameron. The amount of the contract is $368,000. The plans for the institution are drawn on the most modern and approved principles, and in this hospital the province will have a place for the treatment of the insane which will be equal to any in the world. Work is to begin at once.

Mr. Cameron has several local government works on hand at present, among them the building of the wharf at Prince Rupert and the planking of the streets there. He also has a number of private contracts in the new terminal city, and will be one of the foremost men in the building up of that place in a substantial manner.

Russia's Car receives an average of 100 petitions daily.

TO-MORROW'S RACE ENTRIES.

To-morrow's card for the races is particularly attractive and contains a race over a mile and one over a mile and a sixteenth, both for three year olds and up. Six are in the mile, and all of them are horses of class. There are ten in the longer distance, but the race ought to be easy to pick. A scamper for two year olds will open the card when ten run over four and a half furlongs. Two five furlong events and a seven mile up the other events. The entries follow:

THE FRENCH DERBY.

W. K. Vanderbilt's Negofol Finishes First With Edmond Blanc's Union Second.

Paris, June 14.—The French Derby, run yesterday at Chantilly, was won by W. Vanderbilt's Negofol, in impressive style from Edmond Blanc's Union, with Negofol's stable companion, Oversight, third. The stake was worth $40,000, and the race was witnessed by an immense crowd, including thousands of Americans who won heavily on the American victory.

LUMBER INDUSTRY.

Practically All Mountain Mills Are in Operation—Prices Show Upward Tendency.

W. A. Antle, who has returned to Nelson, states that the feeling among lumber men all through the district covered by the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers Association, is highly optimistic. The crop conditions throughout the west are as favorable as could ever be hoped for and an exceptional number of settlers are coming in. Practically all the mountain mills are in operation and the majority of them are shipping extensively. The lumber business outlook generally is better than it has been for the past eighteen months.

From information Mr. Antle was able to gather prices showed an upward tendency and the stock held by the manufacturers at the present time is just 23 1/3 per cent. less than on January 1st of this year.

POLICE DEPORT EMPRESS GUEST

MAN OF MEANS GETS HIS WALKING TICKET

City Police Taking Prompt
Action in Suspicious Cases.

Having his name written in the register of the Empress hotel, and occupying room number one hundred with his wife, and being in possession of valuable diamond jewelry and money to the value of about $200, did not save an expensively dressed visitor from being gathered in on Government street last week by the police, being locked in jail and eventually deported as an undesirable.

J. Porter came here a week ago from Seattle and took a room at the Empress hotel, where to all intents and purposes he appeared a man of considerable means. Later, he was joined by Mrs. Porter, who stayed a day or two with him at the hotel. On landing she was at first denied admittance, but on informing the authorities her husband was here and a guest at the Empress, he was sent for and declared the woman to be his wife, when she was allowed ashore.

She returned shortly to Seattle and Porter remained here, giving out he was interested in the race man, and intended later to start a book in the city at the course. His statement was that he was in advance of his partner, a Seattle man, to look over the situation. He, however, intended to wait a few days before coming to a decision. Porter was suddenly gathered in by the detective force on Government street. He was quietly advised to walk up to the police station, where he was locked up. From information received the police had every reason to believe Porter to be an undesirable. In reply to all questions he was informed he would be held for deportation. He protested and showed a considerable sum of money, and gave his address as the Empress. Porter also requested to be allowed bail that he would not have to sleep in jail. His request was refused, and he was kept in jail over night.

The next day he was deported, his hotel bill being paid, but it is rumored the deportation did not take place without threats from Porter that he would bring an action against the officials here.

The police have, since the advent of the race meeting here, been keeping a watchful eye on all strangers of what ever class. They claim Porter was "a good" Saturday six were gathered up and have been sent back across the Sound. One was appeared in court this morning, and will be given a chance to get out, which he says he will take at once.

The police records since the opening of the races have not been burdened with a long list of wicked ones. The business of the police court has not increased above what it was formerly. The sudden manner in which the local police took action from the commencement appears to have had the desired effect, and the tough element is giving Victoria apparently a very wide berth.
